Elsworth Ruling Says Bars Must Close Early

Establishments selling liquor must close at 1 a. m. pending trial of the action, according to a decision today by Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth.

Judge Elsworth denied a motion by area liquor licensees for a temporary injunction restraining the Ulster County Alcoholic Beverages Control Board from enforcing its June ruling that liquor-selling establishments must close at 1 a. m. instead of 3 a. m.

Fail on 'Clear Right'
In denying the motion for temporary relief asked by local licensees Judge Elsworth ruled that the plaintiffs had failed to show "with the requisite degree of certainty such a clear right to the ultimate relief sought as to justify granting the temporary injunction, prayed for."

Briefs in the case were filed last week by Attorney Arthur B. Ewig for the plaintiffs and the State Attorney General's office for the ABC Board.

To Plan Action
Mr. Ewig told The Freeman this morning that the plaintiffs would determine within a few days what action to take. He said they are considering an appeal.

Judge Elsworth's decision follows.

In this action for a permanent injunction, the plaintiffs have moved for a temporary injunction restraining the defendants, during the pendency thereof from enforcing a resolution adopted by the unanimous action of the two members of the Ulster County Alcoholic Beverage Control Board prohibiting liquor sales in Ulster county from 1 a. m. to 8 a. m. on any week day and from 1 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Sundays effective October 1, 1956. The closing hour theretofore in force both week days and Sundays was 3 a. m.

Court Duty Defined
At the outset it should be pointed out that it is not the function of the court on the present application to consider or concern itself with the question whether such resolution was adopted with wisdom or unwisely. The duty, rather, with which the court is charged is solely that of ascertaining whether or not on the papers submitted plaintiffs, who are the owners of establishments selling liquors, are entitled to the immediate relief here sought.

A temporary injunction is a handmaiden of equity to give immediate and summary relief when irreparable damage threatens. Certain well defined legal principles have been established with relations to its issuance. "Temporary injunctions are only granted in great emergencies." (Joesam Homes, Inc. v. Weisser, 146 Misc. 6, 7.) Great or irreparable injury must be threatened or apprehended. (Brass Rathbone, 153 N. Y. 435, 442.) A

PENSIVE AFTER 'PINCH'—

Mrs. Sonje Juznik, 26, wife of a Yugoslav vice consul in San Francisco, is a study of perplexity at city prison late Oct. 13 after being booked on a charge of shoplifting. Police Inspector Al Corassa told newspaper Mrs. Juznik, who speaks only a little English, was arrested in a San Francisco department store and that $26.75 worth of merchandise from the store was found in her shopping bag. She and her husband have been at the consulate in San Francisco for the past 18 months. (AP Wirephoto.)

Drop Noted In State's Key Cities New Population

May Boost County
Kingston's registration, contrary to a state trend downward from the 1952 record total, shows a slight gain based on first, unofficial figures.

The four-day total here was 16,014 as compiled unofficially at city hall. It was 66 more than the 15,948 in 1952, and 1,944 above the 1953 total of 14,070.

7 Per Cent Drop
An Albany report today indicated a seven per cent drop in representative cities. These included Poughkeepsie where only 17,116 registered this year as compared to 20,100 in 1952, a loss of 2,984, and Newburgh where the total this year was 13,778 against 14,997, a drop of 1,219.

Locally, the extent of population growth as a possible contributing factor to the registration increase is undetermined at this time.

First, Last Days Best

Registration in Kingston was heaviest on the first and last days. The first day's total was 4,263 and that of Saturday, the last day, was 4,580. The second day's total was 3,401 and 3,770 registered on Friday, the third day.

An Associated Press report said decreases were as much as 10 per cent in some communities based on 1952 totals. Rochester showed a drop of 17,079, Syracuse one of 11,757, and in Buffalo where 247,792 registered, the drop under 1952 was 25,741.

New York state had 7,841,613 eligible voters in 1952. The total for 1956 will not be known until returns are made on non-personal registration in communities with populations under 5,000.

County Returns Awaited
Returns on non-personal registration in Ulster county are expected to show increases in several townships due to population increases resulting from location of the IBM plant in the town of Ulster. Final reports by the board of elections are expected to indicate population growth.

Kingston's registration in the years since the 1952 total of 15,948, did not reach or surpass that figure until this year. The 1955 total of 14,070, however, was 881 above that of 1954, and the total for 1954 was 724 above that of 1953.

Kingston Figures

Saturday's totals and the four-day totals in the city by districts:

New York City Drops

New York city registration dropped from 3,528,967 in 1952 to 3,282,984 this year, a seven per cent decrease. Political observers generally analyze state registration on the assumption that larger cities are Democratic, other areas Republican.

A reversal from the general decline apparently was shaping. "Perhaps most effective of all," said Parker, "they are en-

Ike, Adlai Both on TV, Campaign Stepping Up

(By The Associated Press)

Democrat Adlai Stevenson takes to the airwaves tonight to press his proposal for a halt to hydrogen bomb tests, while President Eisenhower prepared for a flying, four-day campaign trip to the west coast and back.

Stevenson scheduled a nationwide radio-TV defense at 9:30 p. m. EST (NBC-TV) of his hotly-debated suggestion that the United States take the lead in halting H-bomb tests—a suggestion Eisenhower has called a "theatrical national gesture."

On Film Tonight

Eisenhower steps up his own presidential campaign this week with speeches—either, recorded or in person—five days in a row, starting tonight with two filmed five-minute talks at 8:25 p. m. EST (NBC-TV) and 9:25 p. m. (ABC-TV).

Eisenhower leaves tomorrow for the Pacific northwest, with stops en route in Minnesota and on the way back in Colorado—his longest campaign foray since the fight for votes began.

Aides said Stevenson, in addition to pushing his proposal that ways be found to ban H-bomb tests, will continue to make Vice President Nixon a "prime issue" in the final three weeks of the campaign.

Far Apart for Talks

Nixon's own campaign schedule put him in Ohio today, while his Democratic opponent, Sen. Estes Kefauver, hit Vermont, New York city and Long Island. In remarks prepared for a delivery in Burlington, Vt., today, Kefauver launched his strongest attack to date against Nixon, saying the vice president "is trying to get into the White House on false premises, a false front and a false face."

Kefauver said Nixon is a "man who has voted against everything liberal" and "would inevitably become the center of power" if Republicans win because the Constitution bars Eisenhower from seeking a third term.

Cites Methods

The Tennessee said Nixon won election to both the House and Senate on "false premises" by trying to identify his opponents with the Communist party.

The controversy over Stevenson's H-bomb proposals continued to rage over the weekend. His suggestion that the military draft might be ended in the foreseeable future, when national security permits, also drew replies from administration spokesmen.

Nixon, speaking Saturday in Alexandria, Minn., accused Stevenson of "playing politics with America's national security on the draft issue."

Then, referring also to the H-bomb proposal, Nixon said Stevenson "could not have made two statements . . . which would

Voting Machine Class Set for Wednesday

Percy S. Jones, custodian of voting machines in the city of Kingston, will conduct a school of instruction on voting machines at Wiltwyck Fire House on Fair street, Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m.

The school of instruction is conducted under auspices of the Ulster County Board of Elections, and all inspectors of election are requested to attend.

The instruction course is open to all custodians and any other person interested in observing the working of voting machines, as well as inspectors of election.

Probe Deepening On Banks' Link To Politicians

Chicago, Oct. 15 (AP)—Senate investigators who say they have found "many Illinois banks deeply involved in politics" today dug into circumstances which brought about a mid-campaign substitution of the Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois.

The Democratic-controlled Banking and Currency Committee held Cook County Treasurer Herbert C. Paschen for questioning about an employee welfare fund in his office, admittedly sustained by contributions from bankers.

Forced to Withdraw

Public disclosure of the fund's existence forced Paschen, who won the Democratic nomination for governor in the primary election last April, to withdraw from the ticket. Party leaders named Judge Richard B. Austin to replace Paschen as candidate for governor.

Chief investigator for the Senate Committee, Robert A. Wallace, said a week of public televised hearings dealing with the Orville E. Hodge financial scandal "pretty definitely show that many Illinois banks are deeply involved in politics."

The former Republican state auditor and two associates who are serving prison sentences for their parts in the conspiracy to steal 1½ million dollars from the state were among witnesses heard last week.

Hodge was a candidate for

Candidates From Two Parties Are To Talk Tuesday

Republican and Democratic candidates for state, congressional and county offices will appear on the same platform in a public forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters of New Paltz Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the municipal building in New Paltz.

The League has invited the public and a capacity crowd is expected to hear the speakers discuss the issues on the state, county and national level. The New Paltz meeting is one of a nationwide series sponsored by the League of Women Voters of America to present the issues in forum style and produce an enlightened electorate.

Although not billed as a political debate, the meeting is expected to produce a lively discussion, especially on county issues. A question and answer period with audience participation will follow the candidates' speeches.

Candidates expected to attend are: Congressman (29th Congressional District)—J. Ernest Wharton (R), incumbent; Vincent Gennaro (D). State Senator (34th Senatorial District)—J. Ernest Wharton (R), incumbent; Vincent Gennaro (D).

Marlboro Raid Nets 8, 5 Get Jail Sentences

Highland state police arrested eight persons at a migrant labor camp in Marlboro section late Saturday night on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to illegal possession and sale of alcohol.

Five of the eight received jail sentences when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Fred Woolsey of Highland, two received 30 days suspended and one was turned over to the Alcohol Tax Bureau on a federal charge of possession and transportation of illicit alcohol.

The five who were committed to the Ulster county jail received a total of 145 days. They are: Hattie Mae Stubbins, 32, Marlboro, charged with illicit sale of alcohol, 30 days.

Lester Stubbins, 32, Marlboro, charged as a common gambler and possession and selling of illicit alcohol, 45 on the illicit alcohol charges and 30 days suspended on the gambling charge. Willie Plant, Lakeland, Fla., possession of illicit alcohol, 30 days.

George Jones, 63, Leesburg, Fla., possession of illicit alcohol, 30 days.

Johnnie Lee Bascomb, 31, Talester, Ga., disorderly conduct, 10 days.

Receiving 30-day suspended sentences on charges of possession of illicit alcohol were Climmie Gilbert Sanders, 35, Codele, Ga., and Therthea Green, 57, Pinehurst, Ga.

George Barret of Newburgh was turned over to federal authorities on a charge of possession and transportation of 17 gallons of illicit alcohol.

Ten troopers of the Highland station participated in the raid at the H. T. Vile Orchards in Marlboro.

34 Places Fail on Pollution Requirements, Says Board

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—Twenty-five industrial plants and nine governmental agencies are failing to meet state water pollution standards in the Black River drainage basin, the State Water Pollution Control Board said today.

The board made the statement in announcing approval of a comprehensive plan to curb pollution in the basin.

The next step, the board said, would be a meeting of representatives of the board and the municipalities and industries concerned to discuss means of correcting conditions named in the plan.

The plan is based on an official classification of waters in the basin, which became effective last July 1. It covers all surface waters in Hamilton, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis and Oneida counties.

Governmental units listed were the city of Watertown, the villages of Boonville, Brownville, Carthage, Lowville, Port Leyden, and West Carthage, and the Glenford sewer district in the town of Martinsburg, and the town of Webb-Old Forge sewer district.

The industrial plants were Black-Clawson Co., Watertown; Brownville Board Co., Brownville; Carthage Paper Makers Inc., West Carthage; Dexter Sulphite Pulp and Paper Co., Dexter; Climax Manufacturing Co., Castorland, and Crown Zellerbach Corp., Carthage.

Mill B, Gould Paper Co., Kosterline; Gould Paper Co., Lyons Falls; Hoffman and Dudo Co.,

Deer River; Hoffman and Dudo Co., New Bremen; Kelly and Forsyth Corp., Port Leyden; Knowlton Brothers, Inc., Watertown, and Kraft Foods Co., Black River.

Latex Fiber Industries Inc., Beaver Falls; J. P. Lewis Co., Beaver Falls; Moyer and Pratt, Inc., Lyonsdale; Queens Farms Dairies Inc., Copenhagen; Rice Vencer Co., McKeever; St. Regis Paper Co., Deferiet; St. Regis Paper Co., Herington, and St. Regis Paper Co. (Champion Mill) West Carthage.

New Wage Board to Review Standards in Restaurants

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Appointment of a new wage board to review standards in New York state's restaurant industry has been announced by industrial commissioner Isador Lubin.

Formation of the nine-member panel—comprised of three representatives each from labor, industry and the public—was announced by Lubin yesterday. It will be inducted here tomorrow.

The board will study existing standards for approximately 212,000 workers, including 76,000 women, employed in 33,000 establishments in the state. The board's findings will be reported to Lubin, together with recommendations for any changes deemed necessary in the current state minimum wage order for the industry.

The current order, which became effective Feb. 15, 1953, sets a minimum hourly wage of 75 cents for non-service employees and 52 cents for service employees who do not receive meals on the job. When meals are provided, the respective rates are 10 cents lower.

Chairman of the new board is Dean Harold M. Somers, of the University of Buffalo School of Business Administration. The other two public members are

Royal Air Force Says Parts of Plane Found, New Hope Is Held for Survivors

London, Oct. 15 (AP)—A Royal Air Force spokesman said today a British ship has picked up the wheels and part of the undercarriage from the U. S. military air transport plane missing since Wednesday in the east Atlantic with 59 U. S. servicemen.

"It gives us new hope that there might be a dinghy or dinghies in the area with survivors," the RAF officer said in Cornwall. "A new search is now being gradually built up around the area in which the wreckage was found."

A U. S. Air Force spokesman in London said he could not confirm the wreckage was from the missing plane, a C118 Liftmaster.

The debris was picked up by the British tanker Navicella about 230 miles southwest of Land's End, the most southwestern point of Britain.

U. S. Air Force authorities here said the serial numbers of the wheels still had to be checked with the numbers of the wheels of the missing aircraft before it could be definitely established they were the same.

A high speed Royal Navy launch was dispatched to the tanker to pick up the wreckage. The U. S. Air Force announced earlier today that its search for survivors from the Liftmaster would continue indefinitely.

"We cannot see any curtailment at this time, and the search is continuing on schedule," an air force spokesman said.

The big military transport version of the DC6 disappeared last Wednesday night on a flight from England to the United States by way of the Azores. It carried 50 air force men returning home after duty in Britain and 9 Navy crewmen.

Numerous investigations have been carried out after planes or ships reported picking up distress signals or sighting life rafts.

Man Believed Cause of Fire, Sentenced 90 Days

William DuBois, 41, who authorities indicate, has no home, drew a sentence of 90 days in jail today from City Judge Raymond J. Mino, after he was the alleged cause of a fire at 55 Hasbrouck avenue Saturday afternoon.

DuBois, police said, was apparently attempting to smoke and sleep at the same time in an attic section of the two-story, brick building, and when firemen arrived they found a shoulder of his jacket badly burned.

Notified of Smoke
Firmen were notified at 5:11 p. m., that smoke was coming from the building, and immediately after the call, an alarm was sounded from Box 2131, Hasbrouck avenue and Mill street. It drew men and equipment from Central and Cornell stations, Union and Cordis hose companies and the salvage truck from Wicks Engine company.

A pump stream was used to check the blaze which was confined largely to the corner where it started, apparently from a dropped cigarette.

DuBois was arrested by officers Harold DeCraff and Robert FitzGibbon on a public intoxication charge, and was jailed pending city court appearance this morning.

A call at 12:28 a. m., Sunday was for a brush fire in an area at the rear of Colonial Gardens.

Schleuter Boy 'Improved' Today

Peter Schleuter, 15, of Hope-well Junction, who was accidentally shot by his nine-year-old brother late Friday afternoon, was reported "improving" today at Highland Hospital, Beacon.

He was taken to the hospital about dark Friday in serious condition after a 22 caliber bullet had passed through his chest just above his heart.

Fishkill state police said Peter had loaded the gun and set it against a tree in the Schleuter backyard while he went to set up a target.

The younger brother, not realizing that the rifle was loaded, picked it up, cocked it and fired. Troopers said the older brother walked into the line of fire.

Thefts, Burglary Attempts Reported

Theft of tools and gasoline from a city-owned power shovel, a burglary at the Kingston News Service building, Greenkill avenue, and apparent burglary attempts were reported to the police over the weekend.

Police were notified this morning that a power shovel parked at a sand pit opposite the Terry brickyard had been entered and tools valued at $50 were taken. An estimated 30 to 35 gallons of gas was also taken from the unit.

A lock on the door of the cab was broken, and the gasoline was apparently siphoned from the tank of the power shovel, the report said.

Window Broken
A report at 1:15 a. m., Sunday said the news service building on Greenkill avenue had been entered and a padlocked box with collection books had been taken. Entrance was gained by the breaking of a window on a door, the report said.

At 1:14 p. m., Sunday another report noted that Morgan's Restaurant on Cornell street had been entered, but nothing was reported missing. A rear window was broken, a door opened, and the vestibule entered, the report said. Two small windows were also reported broken.

An attempt to enter the building of N. Stock's Sons, Inc., 661 Broadway, was reported at 10:15 a. m., Sunday. Someone had attempted to chisel or drill near a lock at the entrance to the building, the report said.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Stock market gains were improved somewhat in quiet trading early this afternoon.

Leading stocks were up fractions to a point or better. A few special issues ran up considerably more but there was also a scattering of losers.

The market was higher from the start as it continued last week's moderate rally.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 30 cents to $180.30 with the industrials up 50 cents, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange the trend was irregularly higher in slow trading.

Corporate bonds were higher in quiet trading.

U. S. government bonds declined in slow dealings.

Lehman Appeals for Wagner Candidacy on Liberal Score

United States Sen. Herbert Lehman (D) joined his political glamor to the campaign of Mayor Robert Wagner of New York city here Saturday afternoon during a brief stop in Kingston.

Several hundred people gathered on Academy Green to hear Mayor Wagner pan the government's agricultural policies and the record of his opponent—“whose name I forget at the moment”—and to applaud Sen. Lehman and local candidates.

Sen. Lehman, now in his late seventies but vigorous and charming, climbed to the top of a bunting-draped campaign trailer to “ask for your votes for my Democratic colleagues” and for the mayor of New York City whose heart had been engaged in the liberal and humane policies of a great metropolis—“a man I'm thoroughly proud to have as my successor in the seat I have held so long.”

Recalls Former Visit
Sen. Lehman recalled in his introductory remarks that this was not his first visit to Kingston, that he had been here 30 years ago to speak in behalf of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, then a candidate for a fourth term. He was manager of Gov. Smith's campaign at that time. He said he also spoke on another occasion for the “father of the next senator from the State of New York.”

Describing his opponent, Attorney General Jacob K. Javits, as a “political opportunist” trying to fool the people with promises, Mr. Wagner charged that Mr. Javits was opposed to the best interests of the farmers.

Calls It 'Dunking'
He said his opponent had “brazenly joined Mr. Benson,” the secretary of agriculture, who has led the farmers “to the brink and given them an undeserved dunking.”

He quoted the following statement of Mr. Javits which he claims was made on the floor of the House on July 2, 1954: “I should think that the people in the dairy areas, though I

Continue Action In Accident Case

Continued in Supreme court before Justice Taylor and a jury today was the $100,000 action brought by Mrs. Edith Carthy of Kerhonkson against the county of Ulster for injuries which she suffered in an accident near Spring Glen on May 10, 1953.

The car which she was driving left the road and went down a bank. She alleged the county was negligent in construction and maintenance of the road at that point. Several accidents had happened at the same place.

Her husband Alexander Carthy brings a claim for $25,000 for medical bills, loss of services and there is also an action for $25,000 brought by Alexander Carthy on behalf of his infant son who was injured.

Louis Berger and Abraham Streifer appear for plaintiff and Arthur A. Davis Jr., county attorney with Robert Carnright, assistant county attorney, appearing for defendant.

At the opening of court this morning an extra panel of 40 jurors had been summoned. After excused had been heard, 22 of the jurors summoned remained for service.

Probe Deepening

re-election when his thefts came to light during the summer. He resigned under fire, withdrew from politics and pleaded guilty to charges for which he is serving 12 to 15 years in prison.

Purpose of Hearings
The announced purpose of the committee hearings was to determine the involvement of federally-insured banks in the Hodge case and whether banking laws need strengthening.

A former bank president, Edward A. Hintz, is in prison for five years as a confessed conspirator in the Hodge case. He was a reluctant witness at the hearings last week, along with Edward A. Epping, Hodge's former officer manager, who is serving a three-year term and faces additional charges.

Testimony from bank executives including former Republican Gov. Dwight H. Green indicated some bankers contributed to political campaign funds as a means of getting or keeping deposits of public funds in their banks.

wife and young son, “Bobby.”

Candidates Introduced

James H. Betts, Kingston insurance man and Democratic campaign leader, presided at the rally and introduced the following Democratic candidates: Vincent di Genaro, Poughkeepsie attorney, who seeks the post of Congressman held by Ernest Wharton; William Byrne Jr., Catskill attorney, a graduate of Kingston High School, candidate for State Senator; Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville, candidate for Assembly; Arthur Withall of Esopus, candidate for sheriff of Ulster county, and Thomas J. Plunket, Kingston attorney, candidate for surrogate.

After leaving Kingston the caravan visited Ellenville for a luncheon meeting and then motored to Newburgh.

Job-Finding Service For Workers Extended

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—The State Labor Department said today it has extended its job-finding service for workers over 40 to 10 more New York communities.

The special counseling work was originally launched in state employment service offices in eight communities.

Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin said the counseling service has been extended to Yonkers, Elmira, Binghamton, Albany, Schenectady, Poughkeepsie, Jamestown, Niagara Falls, Glens Falls and Troy.

The original program is being expanded in Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and New York city, Lubin said, and continued in Hempstead, Utica, White Plains and Newburgh.

Newsboy Dies

Kansas City, Oct. 15 (AP)—If you've ever been in downtown Kansas City, around 12th street and Baltimore avenue, you probably saw William David (Major) Lott. He was barely four feet tall, weighed 104. He'd sold papers around the Muehlebach Hotel corner for about 30 years, when he wasn't off clowning in the circus or a carnival side-show. He usually wore a baseball uniform, particularly since the Athletics transferred here two seasons ago. Major had a paralytic stroke Thursday. He died yesterday. He was 55, a native of New Franklin, Mo. His stepmother, Mrs. Annie E. Tugle of Fayette, Mo., is the only survivor.

Health for All

70 Million Customers

Did you ever stop to think how many Americans are treated in general hospitals each year? About 70 million! Of these about 20 million are "in patients," actually housed at the hospital during their illness, while the rest are "out patients" who come to the hospital for treatment but do not remain. One way or the other, we all have a good chance of becoming customers of these great American Institutions.

The hospital is not only a good place to be treated for illnesses we know we have but also a place where we can reassure ourselves about illnesses we might not know about, such as tuberculosis, which often gives no warning and produces no early symptoms.

Because a chest X-ray helps discover tuberculosis and other chest ailments, many hospitals offer their "customers" a chest X-ray on admission. Each year more and more hospitals are becoming convinced that these "admission" X-rays have great value in protecting both the patient and the community.

In most cases the X-ray will show nothing and then the patient has the peace of mind that comes from knowing that he is free of tuberculosis or other chest abnormalities.

In the few cases in which tuberculosis will be discovered, the patient has a much better chance for recovery because his disease can be treated promptly. Moreover, every time a hospital X-ray discovers a case of tuberculosis, the individual's family, his friends, and the entire community are protected from possible infection.

So, if you should be one of the millions of Americans who will go to a hospital for treatment sometime during the next 12 months, remember that a chest X-ray at the hospital is for your own protection.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by the Ulster County TB & Health Association, 74 John street, Kingston.

Find Five Stowaways

Montreal, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Canadian Mounted Police, acting on a tip from European police sources, discovered five Sicilian stowaways in a weekend raid on the French freighter Joliette as she sailed up the St. Lawrence river to Montreal. An all-out investigation was immediately launched to determine whether the men were being smuggled into Canada by an alien ring or are wanted by European police. Supt. E. Brakefield-Moore said U. S. officials are "naturally" interested as "it seems probable these five may have been headed ultimately for the United States." Search of the 1,650-ton ship continued.

Can You See—

THE EMPIRE STATE BUILDING FROM YOUR FRONT PORCH?

NOT LIKELY. Fortunately, the world we live in demands only normal vision. A minority of people retain 20/20 vision. Most folks can attain it with proper glasses. The purpose of glasses is two-fold—correction and improvement. Correction to normal at once, and gradual improvement through regular check-ups... looking forward to eventual elimination of the glasses themselves. Vision is our business—glasses merely a means to an end.

WE'RE ALL ON A DIET

Most Americans seem at one time or another, to indulge in that humdrum species of heroism known as "going on a diet." They cut out fats, or they eschew bread and potatoes. They grimly deny themselves pie and cake; they stock up on dry toast and lettuce, or drink raw eggs and orange juice until they are glassy-eyed with desire for roast pork, mashed potatoes with cream gravy, squash dripping with butter, et cetera, et cetera.

What they don't know will, despite the old saw, most certainly hurt them. And what they don't seem to know, in this regard, is that indiscriminate dieting may do more harm than good. It may take off pounds but also damage health and weaken resistance.

Nutritionists seem agreed that in most cases a balanced diet is better than one bereft of certain foods. The healthiest way to reduce weight, except in special cases, is to cut down on total food intake, not to eliminate some foods altogether. The ones eliminated may contain elements needed for good health.

The fact is that we are all "on a diet" all the time, whether we know it or not. The essential question is whether what we eat is the best diet to maintain good health. Needs vary from individual to individual, depending on many factors. No one should undertake a drastic change in diet without consulting a doctor.

NEW POLIO VACCINE

The history of science shows that on numerous occasions two men working independently have come up with solutions to the same problem at about the same time. This has happened again in the diligent effort to find a preventive for poliomyelitis.

A year ago last spring, the Salk vaccine was announced. Since then it has been administered to millions in this country and abroad, with notable success. But even as Dr. Jonas E. Salk was achieving his triumph, another scientist also was on the trail of a quite different polio preventive. This is Dr. Albert B. Sabin of the University of Cincinnati medical faculty.

Dr. Sabin has announced that his vaccine is about to be tested widely in various parts of the world. It is quite distinct from the Salk vaccine, and if it proves successful it will have a number of advantages over the latter. It is taken by mouth, rather than injected. Only one dose is required. It is expected to be good for a lifetime. And it is cheap.

If the Sabin vaccine measures up to expectations, it may finally sound the death knell for this terrible, crippling disease. Yet the honor due Dr. Sabin for such an achievement need not detract from Dr. Salk's glory. There will be enough for both men who have done so much to conquer the dread scourge of polio.

CHANGING THE STATISTICS

The one-time fact that married college graduates had few or no children is out the window. Today the average is three or more kids per collegian.

Men and women with degrees in higher education have drastically changed their policies about bringing up families. Where as once they used to avoid having babies, now they're going to the other extreme.

For example, graduates just 10 years off the campus can generally boast of families that are nearly as large as those of old-timers who collected their diplomas 25 years ago.

This rise is reported by the Population Reference Bureau in its 1956 College Study Report.

Since 1946, when the nation's baby boom began, graduates have had increasingly more offspring. And the survey indicates that this year "the gain equals or exceeds that ever recorded by any group."

To the credit of the class of 1931, the report points out that, "In recent years,

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

James Finnegan, Adlai Stevenson's campaign manager, in reply to some questions from May Craig on "Meet the Press," emphasized that the high cost of living is bound to influence the female vote which in 1956 will be larger than the male vote. He believed that when the realistic womenfolk look at their grocery bills, they would vote for Adlai Stevenson. As the cost of living is high, the question arises, could or would or might Stevenson bring that cost of living down?

The question then must be asked: What are the ingredients of the high prices which we have to pay for what we buy?

The first ingredient in the United States is high taxes; the second, high wages; the third, costly government subsidies to industry, labor and agriculture; the fourth, pensions and other benefits to Veterans; and finally, the enormous cost of interest charges on the government debt. Also to be included is the depreciation of currency which is due to all these causes which are the inevitable results of war and post-war economic activities of government.

Now, the question to be answered is whether either candidate, Eisenhower or Stevenson, is prepared to make any savings in these items. For instance, which of them is prepared to advocate lower wages and fewer fringe benefits with the object of bringing prices down? So far the silence is startling. In fact, thus far, the only answer to high wages has been automation where it is possible, but in the automobile industry, Walter Reuther is already meeting automation by something he calls the guaranteed annual wage which is an extension of unemployment insurance. In a word, the cost of production not only stays up but goes up—as must prices.

Edgar Queeny, Chairman of the Monsanto Chemical Company, in a speech, made this point: "Monsanto's hourly rates in its United States plants are more than four times the rates it pays in its British plants, and five times those paid by its German competitors; and, in many cases, the productivity of British and German labor is as great as American. In some instances, German productivity is even higher than ours, particularly in the construction industry. German bricklayers lay 1200 bricks a day; in St. Louis the fixed maximum output is 500."

"American factories cost more to build than European. An American chemical plant costs twice as much as its German counterpart; our laboratories, at least three times as much. With the exception of Britain, if one includes their dividend tax, American corporate income taxes are higher than those of any other industrial nation. Hence, to yield the same rate of return on capital, net profits in the United States must be more than twice as much as, for instance, in Germany."

Fundamentally this is not only a problem of price but also involves the flow of capital. Capital in the United States has become tight, despite high prices, because the net return is smaller than if that capital is invested abroad through a Liberian, a Panamanian, a Liechtenstein or a Swiss company—there are many other possibilities. As it is now the policy of our government to give "a fair share" of the American market to other countries, it is wise for American companies to manufacture abroad, using European or Asiatic labor and to export such commodities to the United States to be sold in competition with American manufactured commodities. Watch the rising import of European—particularly German—cars into the United States. It is increasing each year and may soon annoy even Walter Reuther who could be forced by trade union politics to become an economic isolationist.

In a word, the high cost of living involves many problems, some of them economic, all of them political, and some of them of such a fundamental nature as to require their scrutiny from the standpoint of the future of this nation. No politician dares look that far because his immediate problem is to win an election and nobody can win an election by proposing reduced wages, reduced benefits, reduced subsidies and keeping out cheap goods. But any politician can complain about the high cost of living for which he and his party are, at least, in part responsible.

So, we might just assume that whoever is elected, the cost of living will remain high. (Copyright, 1956, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

CURETTAGE OR CURETTEMENT

Curettage (a French word meaning to scrape out) or curettement is the simplest operation performed upon the uterus (womb) and consists of scraping of the lining of the cavity. It is performed under a light general anesthetic, causes little after pain, and lays up the patient for just a day or two. Because it is such a common procedure among women, perhaps we should see just why it is performed.

There are two main reasons for performing curettage and the first one is for diagnostic purposes, that is, to find if any disease or abnormal condition is present. A specimen of the lining of the uterus (endometrium) is obtained by this procedure and given microscopic examination in order to:

1. Tell if growth is developing within the body of the uterus.
2. Diagnose the cause for upset in the regular menstrual cycle.
3. Discover the cause for inability to become pregnant.
4. Spot the origin of excessive menstrual bleeding.
5. To establish the cause for failure to menstruate.

Another reason for performing a curettage is as a method of treatment:

1. Miscarriage: when a woman has had a miscarriage during the early months of pregnancy, the products of conception and the overgrown lining of the womb may not have been completely expelled. It is then necessary to scrape and clean out the cavity of the uterus.
2. In certain tumors of the body of the uterus, radium is used by placing it for a number of hours within the uterine cavity. Prior to doing this, the lining is usually scraped out.
3. Hyperplasia (abnormal increase in the number of normal cells) of the lining of the womb or polyps (smooth growths having a stem) in this situation are commonly treated by curettage.

There is now not much fear of having a curettage because women are coming to know more about themselves as the general standard of medical and surgical care and its availability has become greater. However, a curettage performed by an unqualified person in poorly equipped offices for the purpose of abortion is certainly an operation to be shunned. Under proper conditions, the stay in hospital is normally just two to four days. There is, of course, no scar as the operation is performed entirely through the vagina. Any special postoperative care is usually not necessary and marital relations may be resumed when the bleeding and discharge has stopped—usually about three weeks after operation.

"Don't Call Us---We'll Call You"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—A thinly disguised letter to 50 top U. S. life insurance companies, asking if they would issue a policy to an individual of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's age and physical condition, was thrown into the campaign today.

Republican leaders who have seen the letter brand it as a phony and as an underhanded smear attack on the President, because he has made no application for any new insurance.

Writer of the letter and its apparent originator is Henry L. Fox, 30. He is a New York insurance broker whose Life Policy Placement Co. specializes in policies for people with disabilities. Fox readily admitted that the letter was designed to cover the case of President Eisenhower, but said it was an entirely personal project.

Fox's 115-word letter is perfectly transparent, but it could stir up the quiescent health issue again. It reads as follows:

"Dear Sir:
"I have been authorized to obtain information concerning the issuance of life insurance on the following individual:

"(a) Male, American, executive, age 66.

"(b) Heart attack one year ago (coronary thrombosis); hospitalized seven weeks; he has resumed complete previous activities; health otherwise good.

"A large, well-known organization is deeply concerned with the life expectancy of this individual since they are considering employing him for a very important executive position in the near future.

"Please inform me by letter (phone calls not considered) as to the general underwriting attitude of your company toward the possible issuance of life insurance on the life of this individual.

"Thanking you in advance for the courtesy of a reply, I remain,

"Very truly yours,

(Signed) "Henry L. Fox."

ONE OF THE COMPANIES

receiving the letter sent it to Washington in the belief that it might be of political origin.

The letter was made available to this reporter for investigation and disclosure.

Ward Cannel, New York NEA Service reporter, took the letter to Fox's office at 75 Maiden Lane, which is Insurance Row.

After acknowledging to Cannel that the letter was his, Fox said replies of two kinds are now coming in.

Several of the companies have replied that they would not write insurance on the subject of his inquiry. They are New England Mutual Life, Aetna, Prudential, Massachusetts Mutual Life, Canada Life, Guardian Life and General American.

Other companies have replied that they would not declare themselves on the insurability of the individual described in the letter until they had further information.

FOX INSISTS that the idea for the letter is all his own. He is a registered Democrat, but he says he has had no dealings with either the Democratic or Republican parties. And he had no dealings with the press, beyond some correspondence with a New York paper several years ago.

Fox discussed the idea of his letter with private individuals who know him professionally. But he said the talk was strictly on party lines. "There is no middle road of opinion on Maiden Lane," he declares.

He admits that one of his friends had been conferring with members of the Democratic party about his survey.

"I feel this way," Fox told reporter Cannel. "One of the big issues is Eisenhower's health. I wonder if public opinion is aware of it as a life expectancy proposition."

THE FACT that no company has offered to write insurance on the subject of his inquiry is just what Fox expected. "I knew what the answers would be before I started," he says.

Fox does not believe that any insurance company will come forward and offer to write a new policy on President Eisenhower, just for Republican or any other publicity purposes.

Fox feels that such an action would jeopardize the insurance company with other policyholders and with applicants who have been turned down because they have had heart attacks.

Also, Fox says that any policy issued to such an applicant would be so prohibitively high, if prorated among several companies, that the publicity would be bad.

Fox has been in insurance since 1949. He calls himself a New Yorker, but he was born in Chicago. He speaks with a midwest twang. He is of medium height and black haired. Married, with two daughters, five and one, he lives in Great Neck, L. I.

Eisenhower Genius Seen In Disavowal of Purges

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 15—President Eisenhower seems to understand the American system of party politics better than some of the dabblers in it who profess sometimes to speak for him, only to sharpen the difference inside the Republican party and unwittingly stir up bad feeling.

The President handled tactfully at his press conference the other day an obvious attempt to embroil him with members of the Republican party who sometimes have not agreed with his policies. It's a maneuver the Democrats have tried often in the present campaign in the hope of embittering a segment of Republican voters so that they will stay at home on election day. But it is a little odd to see Paul G. Hoffman, one of the President's closest friends, putting himself into a position where what he says can be used in such a maneuver in the middle of an election battle that depends for success on preserving the maximum amount of harmony in every state organization.

Mr. Hoffman, writing in "Collier's," sought to describe the President as feeling that "those who are not with me are against me," and implied that Mr. Eisenhower would like to read certain senators out of the Republican party. This is suggestive of the kind of "purge" technique that F. D. R. tried on Walter George of Georgia, and that Harry Truman tried with respect to Democrats who didn't go along with him in Congress. It never worked. The people resented it at the polls.

No National Party

When Mr. Eisenhower was asked about the magazine article and whether he agreed that certain senators didn't fit into the picture of a new Republican party, he answered:

"Now, let's remember that there are no national parties in the United States. There are forty-eight state parties. Then they are the ones that determine the people that belong to those parties.

"There is nothing I can do to say that someone is not a Republican. The most I can say is that in many things they do not agree with me. Therefore, in looking for help to get over a program, which is the sole purpose of political leadership, as I see it, for the good of the country, I can't look to them for help. But we have to remember that these are state organizations and there is nothing that I can do to say so-and-so is a Republican and so-and-so is not a Republican."

Conscientious Senator

The next question was whether the President, as Mr. Hoffman said in his article, was looking toward a conscientious senator like Sen. Knowland to bring over to the administration's side some other Republican senators referred to as "faint hopes." Mr. Eisenhower answered with a smile:

"Well, look, the more people who agree with me, of course, the wiser I think they are. And so I want as many Republicans as I can possibly get going down the line with me because time is short. You find out how short it is sometimes when you are trying to get these things done before the close of a session, and you need all the help you can get; and I am never going to stop trying."

This is statesmanship in politics. For the American people stamp the idea of a "rubber stamp" Congress.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

John Atwood, of San Francisco, has been giving me a wiggling for writing about baseball when the country needs my insight, foresight, literary splendor and inspiring courage. On the other hand, I have had 45 mash-notes thus far, with numerous counties unreported, berating me for ignorance and slack professional standards in writing that Buck Weaver, of the 1919 Black Sox, who vanished from baseball 36 years ago, was a sandlot kid from the south side of Chicago.

There have been six reminders that Charles Comiskey, the owner of the White Sox, promised $50,000 to charity should any member of his club prove to have been infidel in word or deed during the 1919 rendition of the ecstasy, and never gave up a nickel theretoward although eight of his employees were banished from baseball and the fair thoughts of their countrymen forever on suspicion thereof.

I am admonished also by a dozen economists, seasoned with years, that Comiskey could not pay modern wages because in his time 75 cents bought a seat anywhere from first to third in the grandstand and positions in the bleachers were 50 cents and as late as a quarter in season. Building mechanics got $7 a day and Henry Ford astounded us when he raised the minimum for his workers to $5 a day in 1914. This brought him undying publicity for a petty price because only a few hundred of his people got less than five, mainly sweepers and charwomen, and their extra dollar-a-day, or maybe $1.50, raised his payroll by just a few hundred a week. The ball parks were smaller and the traffic at the turnstiles seldom exceeded 10,000.

The World Series, of course, was special, and so were the prices. The Reds and Black Sox played to about 235,000 in eight games, the Giants and White Sox drew 184,000 to six games in '17 and the Red Sox and Phillies with a demure 142,000 in 1915 were cramped by the confines of a phone-booth plant which held only 20,000. Moreover, they played only five games.

Bearing in mind that President Ike and that fellow with the hole in his shoe and Harry Truman on his neck like an albatross both knickered in to go to this year's Series in the heat of the silliest campaign we ever had, forgetting the Suez, the farmer and United Nations, I assert an equal right to leave my post on the ramparts while the nation is in frivolous throes.

There is, in our trade, a phenomenon known as a nothing story composed of loud verbs, weak adjectives and swerves or slicks of alliteration. It diverts and soothes and there is not a irritation in a linear mile of such writing. I observe that my

Lehman Stand Recalled
Thus, when Sen. Lehman of New York, Democrat, was almost alone last year in voting against the resolution to give the President the power to use the armed forces to resist attack on Formosa, he wasn't read out of the Democratic party by its leaders in the Senate. But if he had been a Republican, he would have been pilloried as an "isolationist" and as one who wasn't following the party line.

Mr. Hoffman writes of "the isolationist - Fortress - America half of the Republican party" and says that in the fall of 1950 "the isolationist half of our leadership seemed about to smother the modern half of our party." But Mr. Hoffman must have forgotten or perhaps he didn't read what was going on in Washington when he was traveling abroad so much those days as head of the Economic Co-operation Administration under President Truman. For the record shows that an overwhelming number of the Republicans in the Senate under the leadership of Sen. Taft voted on July 21, 1949, to ratify the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which ended "isolation" for America by declaring that "an armed attack against any one or more of them (the signatory countries) shall be considered an attack on all."

There are differences of opinion within both parties in Congress on some phases of foreign policy today, but these are largely as to the degree or extent that Uncle Sam should play Santa Claus with the American taxpayers' funds.

Conformity Obsolete

Again and again in past administrations, in recent years, men of principle have differed with the executive. These are not the days of Mark Hanna or Thaddeus Stevens when a party caucus compelled Senators to surrender their honest convictions and vote the party line or be punished for non-re-election by state legislatures controlled by the party bosses. These are the days of party primaries and of direct election of United States Senators by the people.

There is still a reactionary, if not a coercionist, school of thought in America which insists that conformity with a President's views on every question supercedes any responsibility a Senator or Representative may have to his own constituency. Mr. Eisenhower himself is more enlightened on this subject than some of his friends who seek to advise him otherwise. He is well aware that good leadership tries to persuade and is not punitive against those who disagree and that open warfare and intervention by a President in party primaries will never make for party harmony. It only widens the cleavages.

Mr. Eisenhower has found as have other Presidents in their first term—as indeed President Wilson in particular found out—that the conciliatory approach in conference with most opponents often leads to an adjustment of views on both sides. Mr. Eisenhower, moreover, can count on substantial support from Democrats in Congress who by voting for his proposals, as worked out this way, are also responding to the wishes of their constituents. There is still a democracy and not a dictatorship in Washington. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Power Authority Discloses Plans On Sale Contracts

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Plans to sell 68,000 kilowatts of power from the St. Lawrence river to municipal and rural cooperative electric systems in upstate New York have been disclosed by the State Power Authority.

The authority said yesterday it was advertising proposed contracts for the sale, transmission and distribution of 20,000 kilowatts to five villages—Solvay, Boonville, Philadelphia, Richmondville and Theresa.

Approval Awaited
Six other communities have not yet approved contracts, covering a total of 30,000 kilowatts, to the extent necessary to permit advertising at this time, the authority's announcement said. The communities are Frankfort, Green Island, Herkimer, Ilion, Mohawk and Skaneateles.

The authority said negotiations on the final 18,000 of the 68,000 kilowatts are under way with municipalities and rural electric cooperatives. These prospective customers of the St. Lawrence power project were not named. Plans call for the 68,000 kilowatts to be carried from generators at the St. Lawrence power project over lines of the Niagara

Mohawk Power Corp. and the New York State Electric and Gas Corp.

Hearing Scheduled
Hearings on the first five proposed contracts were scheduled to be held in New York city Nov. 15. Scheduled for the same day were hearings on the proposed sale of 115,000 kilowatts to the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. and proposed sale of up to 239,000 kilowatts to the Reynolds Metals Corp.

The proposed contracts would allocate 12,000 kilowatts to Solvay, 5,000 to Boonville, and 1,000 each to Philadelphia, Richmondville and Theresa. The identical contracts for these communities provide for transmission over Niagara Mohawk lines.

Like the six communities slated to share in 30,000 kilowatts also would receive their power over Niagara Mohawk lines. The Power Authority noted that negotiations with municipal electric systems within the St. Lawrence market area began last August.

THE LEGAL FETISH

Several years ago a social-religious society received a $100,000 bequest. The income from the fund was to be used to support aged, indigent persons. Trustees had to be appointed to manage the money. A committee of seven was set up; two were clergymen and five laymen. All were men of integrity and most conscientious. But none had a comprehensive understanding of the economic forces behind the inflation, that power which has driven prices and costs higher and higher and interest rates lower and lower.

The committee had many meetings to discuss how the money should be managed. The two progressive members didn't have a chance. They were laymen in their middle forties who wanted to buy some common stocks. The other five snowed them under in the voting.

Legal Bonds

As a result, the committee decided to stick to legal bonds—obligations that trustees could buy without incurring anybody's displeasure. And the chairman of the committee, unfortunately the most conservative member, spoke his opinion on what action should be taken when he emphatically declared: "We have no business buying common stocks. And as for bonds, if the obligations of the United States Government aren't good, then nothing is."

The legal fetish is the management-backbone of hundreds of social, religious, educational and philanthropic committees administering millions of dollars of funds today. Under the impact of inflation, I think that most legal standards of capital management should be thrown into the ash can.

This $100,000 was invested in the bonds of the United States Government, public utility, railroad and industrial enterprises. They were all legal for trust funds in the state where this money was invested. Five of the corporations involved in this program were American Telephone and Telegraph, Consolidated Edison, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Union Pacific Railroad and Pacific Gas and Electric. Fifty thousand dollars of U. S. Government bonds were bought and $10,000 each of the obligations of these leading enterprises.

Highest Rating

Now, these five corporations have the highest credit rating and, as a result, they can borrow money almost as cheaply as can Uncle Sam. Union Pacific borrowed money at 2½ per cent; American Telephone and Telegraph at 2¾, and so on down the line.

As I write this, the market value of these $100,000 of high grade government, utility and industrial bonds is about $90,000. The income from the bonds is small. So, the legal fetish of these conservative trustees has cost the institution supporting elderly people considerable income and the present paper losses in the capital account of about $10,000.

There are hundreds of trustee committees that ought to be discharged today. Their ultraconservative approach either blinds them when they look upon the inflationary world or their lack of courage in making capital-management decisions renders them incompetent in their work. In the case of the committee I have discussed, legal investments were not required. They could have bought anything that prudent judgment dictated. They just hid behind their cloaks of conservatism.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time you run across an old Gazetteer. I have one of 1860 of New York state, which covers all the counties, villages and cities, nearly a century ago.

Under town meetings it is written "They may pass laws regulating roads and bridges, the height of fences, the support of the poor, the range of animals, the destruction of noxious weeds, the preservation of town property, etc. I see in those days they had turnpike inspectors which were in every county in which there were turnpikes, the acts of incorporation of which did not require the appointment of special inspectors.

There were three to five in number, and must have no interest in any turnpike, in the state. They also had plank road inspectors in every county which had plank roads. They had to see that the plank roads were kept in repairs to protect the public where collections of tolls were made. Overseers of highways, were also called "Pathmasters" in 1860.

They tell about the canals of New York state. "They were first constructed for the purpose of facilitating settlement and of opening an easy means of communication between the Atlantic and the Great Lakes. The canals are under the care of several state officers etc." They list all the canals. The one we care about is "The Delaware and Hudson Canal, extending from Rondout on the Hudson to Honesdale, Pa. It is connected with the Lackawanna coal region by a railroad 16 miles long, and is one of the principal routes by which coal is brought to the market upon the Hudson. The names of all the places

Newsmen Give Reaction After Visit to South

Boston, Oct. 15 (AP)—A group of 18 New England newsmen was back home today after a week as guests of the State of Mississippi to see for themselves how the Negro lives and how he is treated by the whites.

One of the first to air his views after the plane landed last night was Clark Samuel, editor of the Foxboro (Mass.) Reporter and leader of the group of weekly newspaper editors.

Samuel said: "I cannot see integration happening in the State of Mississippi in my time. I believe I am in the minority among my colleagues in saying this. There are too many complex problems, and the people of both races I have talked to do not seem to look forward to a mingling of Negroes and whites in the foreseeable future."

"It must always be remembered in any discussion of Mississippi and its future that its population in many counties is predominantly Negro. The people of Mississippi have lived under segregation since the first slaves were brought to the new world."

Saw No Tension

Samuel said also: "We can honestly report that we saw no signs of racial tension such as we have often observed in cities like Baltimore, Washington, New York and Boston. One evening we walked alone down several streets in a Negro section of a Mississippi city—something we would not dare to do as a white man in New York's Harlem. No one molested us. Several said 'good evening.'"

John P. Kelley, managing editor of the Bridgeport (Conn.) Sunday Herald, said it appeared to him Mississippi negroes have "been so brainwashed by generations of white supremacy that they don't care if they go to school with white people or not—and preferably not."

His comment brought this reaction from Frederick Sullens in a column in the Jackson (Miss.) Daily News:

Says Diagnosis Reversed
"One of these damn Yankee editors now touring Mississippi at the expense of our people says he finds our negroes have been brainwashed. He has his diagnosis in reverse. It is a pitiable fact that persons who have been thoroughly brainwashed think everybody else is similarly afflicted. That damn Yankee had his mind made up on the race question before he came to Mississippi and he came with a determination not to change his mind."

From Paul C. Cummings Jr., editor and publisher of the Peterborough (N.H.) Transcript, came this view:

"Mississippi is in the process of evolving toward integration, begrudgingly." He added that "the process would be completed either by evolution or by revolution."

Mississippi's Governor J. P. Coleman told the visiting group "... as far as I am concerned, there will be no integration in Mississippi."

Actress Satisfactory

Beverly Hills, Calif., Oct. 15 (AP)—Actress-dancer Carol Haney, star of the Broadway hit "Pajama Game," was reported in satisfactory condition today at Mt. Sinai Hospital. She collapsed Friday night at a Las Vegas, Nev., night club where she was appearing in the show. Her doctor said Miss Haney was suffering from exhaustion and a throat infection.

Black Blacksnake

Hillsboro, Ohio (AP)—There was almost no obstacle too great for the six-foot blacksnake which climbed an electric pole near here in search of bird eggs. Almost no obstacle, that is, except a 7,000-volt power line. An electric company serviceman found no damage, except one thoroughly blackened blacksnake.

Car Is Better

Norman, Okla., Oct. 14 (AP)—"I'll never do that again," said George Potter of Jackson, Mississippi. Potter was echoing the sentiments of three Sigma Chi fraternity brothers at Oklahoma University who pedaled a specially built three-man "tricycle" from here to Dallas—about 200 miles. The students left Thursday and arrived at 3 a. m. Saturday—in time for their goal, the Oklahoma-Texas football game. They decided to return by automobile.

Protest Lease Plans

Florence, Italy, Oct. 15 (AP)—Florentines are flooding their papers with letters protesting the Italian government's plans to lend 40 famous paintings to American museums for four months. But the government in Rome shows no signs of backing down. The paintings, which include some of the most prized in Florentine museums, are to be shipped to America this month on a U. S. military sea transport for exhibit at the National Gallery in Washington and New York's Museum of Modern Art.

Claims the Heart of Texas

Hinojosa, 48, of Detroit, Mich., displays some of the documents which will, he says, prove his claim to 750,000 acres of southern Texas. Hinojosa bases his claim on a Spanish land grant to his great-great-grandfather more than 125 years ago and on an American land patent to the area issued in 1888. Within the claimed territory are the city of Corpus Christi and some 20 other communities. Riggers Local 575 of Detroit, Mich., is so impressed by American-born Hinojosa's claim that it is setting up a fund to finance the long court fight ahead.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Defense Picks Correct Shift

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When West led the queen of clubs in today's hand, South made the good play of refusing to cover with dummy's king. South felt sure that East had the ace of clubs, and he thought it would be harder for West than for East to find the correct shift at the second trick.

West saw that dummy was short in clubs and that South would ruff a club in dummy unless the defenders took immediate measures. West therefore shifted to a low trump at the second trick.

This was the killing defense. South won in his own hand, cashed the top spades, ruffed a spade in his hand with a high trump, and then led a club.

East took to ace of clubs and returned his remaining trump. This enabled West to take the ace of trumps and lead a third trump, thus clearing all of the trumps out of the dummy. Since the spades had not broken, South had no way of preventing the loss of a third club trick. He was thus down one at his game contract.

If West had failed to lead trumps promptly, South would have managed to ruff a club in dummy. Even if West had led trumps by taking the ace of hearts and then leading a low heart, South would still have come through unscathed. East would be unable to lead a third trump when he got the ace of clubs. The correct defense had to be very precise indeed.

If West had failed to lead trumps promptly, South would have managed to ruff a club in dummy. Even if West had led trumps by taking the ace of hearts and then leading a low heart, South would still have come through unscathed. East would be unable to lead a third trump when he got the ace of clubs. The correct defense had to be very precise indeed.

People Do Love Dogs

By FRANK TRIPP

People are kind—very, very kind, most of them. This is an appreciation of that American virtue; gratitude to the hundreds who cried with me for "only a dog."

Before we lost our little "Cokey" in July, I thought that I understood the affection of masters for their dogs, but I didn't begin to understand its extent or depth.

"Cokey" had become a somewhat famous dog, through my tales of her patience and wisdom. In life she brought bundles of fan mail. In death she hit the jack pot; the most to come my way in a half century of writing. And, after months, still it comes.

If I were to become an editor again I would heed that famous one who demanded a dog story in every issue of his paper. I would omit almost anything to make room for it. For I have just experienced forthright voluntary reaction that knocks any scientific poll of readers into a cocked hat.

IT IS the sincerity of the letters that makes them so impressive; many a one is a story in itself. Fan mail usually just compliments, agrees or criticizes. "Cokey's" letters speak of her as one would of a lovable person. They prove man's affection for dogs. Many tell of the sad loss of equally loved canine friends.

There is a universal tenderness about them. They came from little children, the aged, from bank presidents, big name executives and professional people; "Cokey's" friends, unknown to me; a country-wide cross section of human kindness.

By newspaper standards of evaluation each such voluntary expression represents hundreds of other people with kindred thoughts who do not write to the paper.

Thousands loved little "Cokey" through reading about her, and were sorry when she died. "Only a dog," and from coast-to-coast came letters from strangers.

Oh, what a big heart has America!

THERE'S STILL another sunny side. We have a "Cokey Too," another coal black miniature poodle puppy. We knew that every time we called her we would be reminded of "Cokey" who will live forever in our memories.

We have boats named "Mary-nan II" and "Nancy Fair II," so why not have a "Cokey Too"? All that we expect is half the knowing, obedient, loving companion that "Cokey" was. Fond memories will supply the rest. I just had to have a dog to write about, so might as well get in my first boast about "Cokey Too." At eight weeks old, too small to more than waddle, step by step, she climbed the stairs alone to her little bed on the second floor.

SHE CAN'T go down the stairs yet but every night when we settle down for the evening she struggles up alone, ignores her bed and cuddles to sleep on the floor of Anna's closet, her tiny head resting across one of Anna's shoes. Not a whimper or sound from her until morning.

Thus starts the career of another dog you'll hear about.

You who wrote me that you will never lose your heart to another dog are missing joys untold. Our own experience recommends that you find one like the dog you loved and lost. Preferably a puppy, and learn the satisfaction of rearing it into a likeness of the dog you lost. It helps a lot.

Besides, the likes of you owe a good home to a dog.

How This Newspaper Helps Advertisers...

Ring up Sales

You have at your disposal the finest advertising research system ever devised—the cash register.

When you run an advertisement, you listen to the cash register the next day. If it rings merrily, you know that your advertising was effective. Sales, in the final analysis, are the main reason why most people advertise.

Your experience in selling and your knowledge of your products and services have a perfect ally in our experience—as typographers, as market analysts, as newspaper people, and, in fact, as successful advertisers, ourselves.

Let us show you how this combination of experience, building together on an accurate knowledge of our audience,* can help ring up more sales for you through more effective advertising.

New Law Governs
Auto Insurance

First in Series

A yellow slip of paper, 6 by 3 1/2 inches in size, will be just as important as your renewal application form when you apply for your 1957 automobile registration plates.

Unless you have this slip of paper at the time you apply for your '57 registration, the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles cannot give you plates for the next year.

That's the law. It's New York's new compulsory automobile liability insurance law—officially, the Motor Vehicle Financial Security Act.

Under it, every motor vehicle must be covered by liability insurance of at least "ten-twenty-and-five" in order to be registered in New York and use our streets and highways.

Must Keep Up Insurance
This liability insurance must be kept up continuously, or you lose your plates and, in some circumstances, also your driver's license. There are criminal provisions which make you subject to a heavy fine or even a jail sentence for certain violations.

All of this is your state government's answer to the old and aggravating problem of those who suffer innocently at the hands of financially irresponsible drivers. As Governor Harriman has pointed out, "a motor vehicle in the hands of an irresponsible driver becomes an instrument of destruction."

This new law, in the words of the Governor, "marks a great step forward towards securing just treatment and assuring a greater measure of safety for the citizens of our State."

The State Legislature wrote into the law its purpose—"that innocent victims of motor vehicle accidents may be recompensed for the injury and financial loss inflicted upon them."

In this series of seven articles, the Bureau of Motor Vehicles explains the operation of the new law and how it affects the State's 5,000,000 vehicle owners, its 6,500,000 licensed drivers, and non-resident motorists.

The Motor Vehicle Bureau has this immediate advice for every motor vehicle owner: If you do not now have automobile liability insurance, you had better make arrangements at once to obtain the required coverage. If you do have liability insurance make sure that you keep it always in force.

The canary-colored slip of paper, which you will have to submit to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles with your 1957 registration renewal application in order to get your new plates, is a Certificate of Insurance and will be identified officially as Form FS-1. This is the only proof the Bureau will accept that you have an owner's policy of liability insurance in the minimum amounts required by law.

Minimum Coverage Listed
The minimum required coverage is $10,000 insurance for injury or death of one person in one accident, $20,000 for injury or death of two or more persons in one accident, and $5,000 for property damage.

You get your Certificate of Insurance from the insurance company or agent or broker who sells you your automobile liability insurance policy. It will show the name of the company, your name, the number of your policy, a description of the vehicle, starting and expiration dates of the policy.

Remember, the certificate (Form FS-1) must accompany your application for 1957 registration plates and the policy described on the certificate must be in effect at the time you apply for your plates. The Bureau cannot accept the policy itself, or such related items as insurance identification cards, statements, binders, endorsements or receipts. If a car is to be registered in a name other than the policyholder, the Certificate of Insurance will be acceptable only if the surname and address of the policyholder and the vehicle registrant are the same.

There are certain methods other than a Certificate of Insurance for proving "financial security" so as to obtain registration plates for your car (such as a $25,000 cash deposit or bond) and these will be outlined in the next article of this series.

Next—Other Ways to Prove "Financial Security."

LABOR PLANS TESTIMONIAL FOR PRESIDENT DOYLE—One of the area's prominent labor leaders, Sam Doyle of Middletown, formerly of Kingston and Cottekill, will be honored at a testimonial dinner being arranged by a committee from the Ulster, Sullivan Building Trades Council of which he has been president for the past 12 years. Making plans for the event to be held Saturday night, Dec. 1, at the Governor Clinton Hotel here are (seated l-r) Joe Verdi, Poughkeepsie, Roofers Local 99; Stephen Gill, Painters Local 255; George E. Yerry Jr., president of Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters and Martin E. Oberkirch, Plumbers and Steamfitters Local 224; standing, Albert J. Melville, Local 417, Ironworkers; Martin Oberkirch Jr., Plumbers and Steamfitters Local 223; Edward Hahn, Teamsters Local 445; Gus Parker, Local 17, Laborers and Julius Lamanec, Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters. Chairman Stephen Gill said the event will be held in recognition of Mr. Doyle's devotion to the cause of labor unionists in the two-county council and as business agent of Local 417, Ironworkers. Reservations are being accepted by members of the committee. More than 300 are expected to attend the dinner, proceeds of which will go to the building fund for the new nurses' home at the Benedictine Hospital. (Freeman photo).

Schuyler Sheriff Dies
Serving Seventh Term

Watkins Glen, Oct. 15 (AP)—The funeral of Schuyler county sheriff Dana T. Burt will be held here tomorrow.

Burt died Saturday in Schuyler County Hospital, Montour Falls, a few hours after suffering a heart attack. He was 72. First elected in 1936, Burt was serving his seventh consecutive term, a county record, at the time of his death. He was a Republican.

Burt was recently the center of a controversy which followed the May 20 escape of two prisoners from the county jail here. He was called "lax" by the State Correction Commission but was defended by the county board of supervisors. The board assumed partial blame in maintaining what it termed an outmoded jail. Survivors include his wife and two sons.

Dewey Predicts
Contest in '60

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey forecasts "a real bang-up contest for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, with Vice President Nixon handicapped in one respect."

Any idea that Nixon is sure to get the nomination runs contrary to "all human experience," Dewey said in a filmed television interview yesterday. He described Nixon as the best vice president ever but said "I think only once or twice in history has a vice president been nominated for president."

No Intentions
Dewey said a vice president must perform his duties quietly lest he "compete with his own president," and that Nixon would be at a disadvantage in building himself up as a presidential aspirant.

Members of the senate and governors and even cabinet officers are under, no such restrictions—no such wraps," Dewey added. Asked about his own plans, the GOP nominee in 1944 and 1948 said he has no intention of returning to public life.

Nixon's future prospects came up when a questioner asked whether, in view of the two-term limitation on presidents, Nixon would become the real leader of the GOP if President Eisenhower is re-elected.

"So long as Dwight Eisenhower is President," Dewey replied, "he's going to be running this country, and he'll run the Republican party."

New Navy Sub Is
'Quietest' Yet

Groton, Conn., Oct. 15 (AP)—The Navy is getting a submarine which is described as "the quietest of all time" and which has comforts you'd expect only on an aircraft carrier.

It is the USS Darter (also known as SS 576) which the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp. is turning over to the Navy in commissioning ceremonies here next Saturday.

Although the Darter is smaller than her World War 2 predecessor (it's 260 feet long and 1,800 tons), it is faster and a lot roomier insofar as the crew is concerned.

It's quiet, says General Dynamics, because its engine noise is confined to a "sound-isolated" compartment. The conventional, diesel-powered engines are operated by remote control from a soundproof cab or console.

One Man Operates

Submerged, the new Darter can be operated by one man because of its airplane or "joy stick" type control. The corporation said that type of control also makes for a comfortable ride as well as for easier diving and maneuverability.

This is the set-up for the crew:

Wide aisles between berths; individual bunk lights and ventilation; an ice cream machine; automatic record player; modern, wide movie screen, and four-place dining room tables.

The new Darter's keel was laid Nov. 10, 1954 not far from where the big nuclear submarines Nautilus and Sea Wolf were built. It was launched last May 28.

Lt. Cmdr. Ralph R. Blaine, a native of Manchester, N. H., will be her skipper.

Four Youths Are Held in Buffalo
In Fatal Beating

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—Four Buffalo youths, charged with Saturday's fatal beating of a 49-year-old man in nearby Collins, were held in Erie county jail today while police continued efforts to unravel all the circumstances of the slaying.

Authorities said Harold J. Ors was bludgeoned to death after finding a group of thieves trying to open a stolen safe in woods near his summer home. They said one of the accused youths had identified another as the killer but police would give no further details.

The stolen safe, opened later at headquarters, contained no money, officials said. They said it was stolen Saturday from the home of a businessman in suburban Tonawanda.

Charged with first degree murder were: Louis Pisa, 19; Saverio C. Silvagnia, 23; Silvagnia's brother, Joseph, 19; and Salvatore T. Lo Faso, 18.

No Pleas Entered
They were arraigned yesterday before Peace Justice Olaf Carlson in Collins who set Nov. 14 as the date for a hearing. No pleas were entered.

Ross, father of six children, was a foreman for the Iroquois Gas Corp. He had gone to the woods to warn what he thought was a party of hunters trespassing on his land.

His body was found by his son Carl, 14, who followed his father after hearing noises and shouts in the woods.

Medical Examiner Milton J. Schulz said Ross died from repeated blows on the head with a blunt instrument. Authorities found a small bloodstained sledgehammer and several chisels at the scene.

Two of the accused were arrested while walking along a highway several miles from the Ross place. The other two were arrested in Buffalo.

57 Lincolns Will Cost About 7.4
Per Cent More

Detroit, Oct. 15 (AP)—Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Co. says its 1957 models will cost an average 7.4 per cent more than this year's models.

The suggested list prices range from $4,101 for the Capri series hardtop coupe to $4,808 for the Premiere series convertible. The prices do not include taxes, handling charges and optional equipment.

Power brakes and rear license plate frame, optional on 1956 models, and a new remote controlled outside rear view mirror have been made standard equipment.

Lincoln attributed the price increases to "rising costs of labor and materials as well as Lincoln's styling advances and engineering changes."

The new models will go on display tomorrow.

Associate Membership Campaign Launched By Local Theatrical Group for Season

All active members of Coach House Players are now engaged in the opening of their seventh season which involves the sale of associate memberships for the three plays scheduled and preparing their first show. An announcement of the cast and production committees will be made at a later date.

A covered dish supper held at the Coach House on Sept. 27 officially began the drive for associate members. During this drive all members are offering to those interested, a season ticket for the three outstanding plays. The players will produce "Ladies in Retirement" on Nov. 7 and 8; "The Tender Trap" in March; and "The Crucible" during the month of May. All shows are produced two successive nights at the George Washington School auditorium where an entire section of the auditorium is reserved for those holding associate or patron memberships. At the conclusion of each season, active members are hosts at open house at the Coach House when all associate members are invited to tour the various production departments of the Coach House and enjoy one-act plays.

Since its organization, Coach House has completed twenty major productions plus many one-act plays and skits presented for various local organizations as a community service. All major productions are directed by Houston Richards, professional actor and director from Woodstock.

Anyone interested in securing an associate membership or wishing further information may contact any active Coach House member or Mrs. Helen Davenport, chairman, 48 Main street, Mrs. Gertrude Felsen or Photo Workshop, 616 Broadway.

An application blank to be used for ordering memberships appears elsewhere in this issue.

Jean Mauro Weds John Marino; Couple Plans to Make Home in East Kingston

Miss Jean Mauro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mauro of East Kingston, became the bride of John Marino, son of Mrs. Viola Marino of Glasco, Sunday, Oct. 7 at 2:30 p. m. in St. Colman's Church, East Kingston.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Edmund V. Radford, pastor of the church. Theodore Riccobono was at the organ and Virginia Mancuso sang several selections.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an imported gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with an Empire waist, Queen Anne collar which was edged with pearls and a bouffant skirt that terminated in a chapel train. The gown was worn over a hoop. The bride carried a white lace covered prayer book with a white orchid and white satin streamers.

Miss Dolores Guido, cousin of the maid of honor. She wore a yellow velvet princess styled gown, matching headpiece and carried a hand bouquet of white pompons with white ribbon.

Miss Constance Berardi, cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. Miss Berardi was attired in a gown styled identically to that of the honor attendant and she carried a hand bouquet of rust-colored pompons.

Joseph Riccio of Glasco was the best man and ushers included James Guido, uncle of the bride and Raymond Greco, cousin of the bridegroom.

Junior usher was Joseph Marino, brother of the bridegroom. A reception was held at the Flamingo following the church ceremony.

Mrs. Marino is a graduate of Kingston High School and is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Saugerties High School, is employed by IBM in Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride wore an orchid velvet dress with black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Marino will make their home in East Kingston.

DOING ERRANDS FOR OTHERS

"I work in midtown where many of the large department stores are located. Very often a friend of mine, who is married and does not get to the stores too often, asks me to pick up a certain item for her which she has seen advertised in the newspapers. I am only too glad to do her the favor, as I am in and out of the stores all the time. She always gives me the money in advance. However, there is a tax on many of these purchases which she does not include and which I have to pay for out of my own pocket. Up to now I have not asked her for it, as I did not want to seem mercenary. But since she asks me to pick up things for her quite often, these amounts, although small, do mount up and I don't see why I should have to pay for them. Would it be proper to ask her for it? If so, what can I do about it without seeming cheap?"

First of all get the thought of the word "cheap" out of your mind. Tell her frankly that you hate to ask her for the tax because while it is only a trifle each time paying it often does mount up. Any fair-minded person would be glad you called this to her attention.

On Being Introduced

Dear Mrs. Post: I work in a branch office of a large company. Yesterday afternoon one of the executives of the firm came in from the main office and I was introduced to him. Was I wrong in not rising at my desk to acknowledge the introduction? The office manager also took this man to several other desks and in all other cases, the young women stood up.

Answer: I am sorry to have to tell you, the other young women were right. You were lacking in courtesy.

Walking In

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it, or is it not, proper for someone to enter a house without knocking simply because the door is unlatched?

Answer: Certainly not, unless one is a member of the family or an especially intimate friend who is definitely given the privilege of entering the house at any time.

So many readers have asked about engraved wedding forms for a widow or a divorcee that Mrs. Post has written a leaflet by that title, E-9, which explains the proper wording and procedure for sending invitations or announcements. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. ## KHS Graduate Wins Honors For Journalism

A recent Kingston High School graduate was honored Saturday at the closing session of the 19th annual convention of the Empire State School Press Association at Syracuse.

John H. Kuhlmann Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kuhlmann Sr., of Kripplush was awarded a journalism trophy for his news writing in "Dame Rumor," official Kingston High School newspaper.

Twenty other Journalism trophies were awarded at the special session held in Hotel Syracuse climaxed the two-day convention held at Syracuse University.

May Enter RPI

Young Kuhlmann graduated June 1956 and is enrolled to enter RPI in Troy next semester.

The convention with its theme, "The Student Press—Training for Responsible Citizenship," was attended by 600 student delegates from 75 New York State public parochial and private junior and senior high schools.

Convention highlights included talks on various phases of newspaper, magazine and yearbook writing and production by 25 journalism specialists, as well as student workshops, scholarship contests, a banquet and football game.

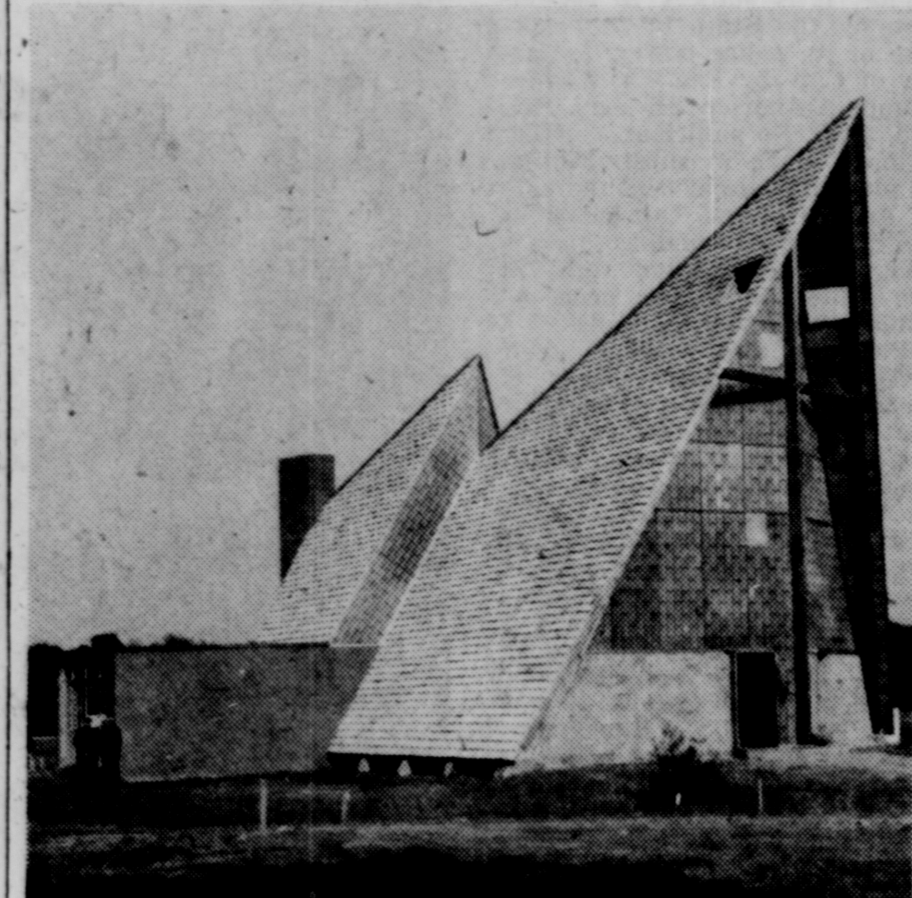

ESSPA was co-founded at Syracuse in 1937 by M. Lyle Spencer, former dean of Syracuse University's School of Journalism and Dr. Douglass W. Miller who was then assistant to the journalism school dean.

During the past 19 years ESSPA has held fast to its original aim of promoting greater interest and participation in high school journalism and improving the standards of scholastic journalism throughout the state.

Vassar College Board Elects Goodrich Head

Judge Herbert G. Goodrich, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, was elected chairman of the board of trustees of Vassar College, Poughkeepsie Saturday, it was announced by Miss Sarah Gibson Blanding, president of Vassar. He served as a trustee from 1946 to 1953. Judge Goodrich was formerly dean and professor of law at the University of Pennsylvania. Earlier he taught law at the University of Iowa and the University of Michigan.

Parent's Group Hears Discussion On Fluoridation

Dr. Stephen T. McGrath, local dentist discussed the influences of fluoridation at a meeting of the Parent's Group of St. James Methodist Church Sunday at the church hall.

Dr. McGrath spoke following a banquet supper served at 6:30 p. m.

Introduced by Warren H. Eckels, president of the group, Dr. McGrath reviewed the history of fluoridation and cited controlled experiments in different parts of the United States. Of particular interest is the experiment at Newburgh, where a fluoridation program has been in force for the past decade. When equivalent means of examination are used, a lessening of tooth decay under controlled fluoridation shows to the extent of 60 per cent, he said.

Toxicity Effects

Toxicity effects under a controlled program show no deviation from the health norm of the nation. A fluoridation program for Kingston is estimated at about $8 per thousand to initiate, and approximately $4 per thousand each year to maintain . . . or a cost of about 12 cents per year per citizen, Dr. McGrath said.

In the question and answer period that followed, Dr. McGrath cited the following national organizations as being unqualified in their support of a fluoridation program: American Medical Association, American Dental Association, National Health Institute, and American Nursing Association. It was stressed that these organizations (whose very premise of existence is dependent upon the decrease in the morbidity and mortality rates of the country) would not jeopardize these statistics by willfully introducing toxic materials into the water supplies merely for the sake of improving dental health.

Problems Rebutted

Precise problems regarding the arguments of the anti-fluoridation forces were rebutted in detail by the speaker. These included the questions of violation of personal liberty, enforced medication, potential communist subterfuge, and the economic correlation to the by-products of the aluminum industry.

The next meeting of the Parents Group will be held Sunday, December 2.

Fat Wallet Saves Customs Inspector

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—A 64-year-old U. S. customs agent says a fat wallet in his coat pocket served as a bullet-stopping shield for him in a fight with two other men.

Daniel E. Dunning told in Brooklyn felony court yesterday how the wallet saved him from a bullet wound. His account:

Two men in a car sideswiped his auto Saturday night as he was driving home. He said they opened the doors of his car and began beating him.

Dunning drew his gun, one of the men grabbed it, however, and twisted the barrel back in his direction, the gun fired.

The bullet ripped through an inch-thick collection of cards, papers and money in the wallet and stopped just short of his chest.

The two men fled but were caught by police minutes later. Arraigned on felonious assault charges were Robinson Washington, 33, and Eddie Charles, 25, both of Brooklyn. They were held in jail.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N. Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms. This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that now it can be sold without prescription—in tiny tablets called Primatene®.

Week's Forecast Given for State

Albany, Oct. 15 (AP)—The extended weather forecasts for New York state, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7:30 p. m. today to 7:30 p. m. Saturday:

Eastern New York—Generally fair and warm weather is expected through most of the 5-day period. Monday night through next Saturday. There is some chance of a few scattered showers in the St. Lawrence valley area Tuesday and more general rainfall and cooler weather toward the weekend. Temperatures will average 4 to 6 degrees above normal.

Western New York—A wetter period is indicated with temperatures averaging 4 to 5 degrees above normal. Increasing clouds and mild with scattered light showers Tuesday, cloudy and mild Wednesday followed by a general rain and cooler Thursday or Friday. Partial clearing Saturday. Nearly one inch of rain is expected.

Temperature normals—Normal highest daytime temperatures in upstate New York at this time of year range from 55 to 62 degrees. Normal overnight lows range from 35 to 42.

Four Killed in Crash

Bailen, Spain, Oct. 15 (AP)—Four Spaniards were killed yesterday in a collision with an American automobile five miles north of here. Two Americans were in critical condition today with fractured skulls. The four Spaniards were the Marques De La Ribera, his wife, 25-year-old daughter Consuelo Jimenez y Llorente and their chauffeur, Armando Armijo of Chicago, Ill., suffered severe bruises. His wife Megno and Alfred J. Todaro of the Bronx, N. Y., were on the critical list with fractured skulls. A fourth occupant of the American car, Maria Luisa Jimenez Falcon, a Spaniard, was slightly injured. All four were in a hospital in Jaen.

Forms Advisory Group

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Charles Abrams, chairman of the New York State Commission Against Discrimination, has formed a 37-member labor advisory committee for his agency. Abrams, who announced formation of the advisory committee yesterday, said its aim is the "elimination of all forms of racial and religious discrimination in New York state labor organizations." The labor advisory committee will hold its first meeting here next Thursday. Gov. Averell Harriman will be the principal speaker.

Reorganization

The Hague, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Dutch government today announced that Queen Juliana is reorganizing various departments of the royal household as a result of the recent furor over her relationship with the faith healer Miss Greet Hofmans. A communique issued by the Government Information Service denied recent reports that the Queen still had direct or indirect contact with the 61-year-old woman whose influence over the monarch reportedly caused a deep rift between Juliana and her husband, Prince Bernhard.

Death Is Decision

Spencer, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—A 17-year-old high school girl found it easier to take her life than to choose between two loves.

Dorothy Doolittle, an honor student, shot herself in the chest with a .22 calibre revolver yesterday, state police said, after leaving a note indicating she was torn between two men. She had had two dates Saturday night, troopers said.

The Mature Parent Here's a Halloween Idea That Teaches Self-Respect

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Last Halloween was the best Jane and Bobby ever had. There's still time for you to plan one like it for your children.

They dressed up as a witch and cowboy. Then with blackened faces, they went out to ring neighbors' doorbells just like other "trick or treat" masqueraders. But there the likeness ended. Jane and Bobby begged no candy, cookies or fruit for themselves. Instead they begged pins, needles, thread, school supplies and children's clothing for needy families in faraway lands.

What they received they put in his paper bags bearing the red-and-black star of the American Friends. To give them, they presented an orange paper pumpkin upon which they'd written this verse in black crayon:

"When you've given pencils, thread and pins
Just hang me on your door.
So prowling ghosts and goblins
Will ring your bell no more."
Jane and Bobby were serving as Friendly Beggars—a movement sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee, the internationally respected Quaker agency. Last year along with some 200,000 other children in 26 states, they collected more than 16 tons of necessities for overseas distribution by the committee.

A psychoanalyst friend has asked me to tell you about the Friendly Beggars. He said: "The moral satisfaction a child gets from knowing himself useful to others is sweeter than the taste of lollipops—and outlasts it, too. Parents who know this is true can present the Friendly Beggars idea to children so that they respond to it eagerly not only because of the fun it offers but because they recognize it as experience in self-respect."

You can get information on how the Friendly Beggars operate either on a small scale or a wider community basis by writing to the American Friends Service Committee at 20 South 12th street, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Parents who make a definite decision for the Friendly Beggars idea this Halloween will probably want the committee's 25-cent information packet called "It's Halloween."

In it, they're asked to rehearse youngsters in situations they may encounter as Friendly Beggars. One of the rehearsal questions asks, "What do you say if someone shouts crossly, 'Go away! I haven't anything to give you!'"

The answer taught the children is, "Please excuse me for bothering you. Maybe you'd like to have my paper pumpkin to hang on your door anyway."

Yes, the self-respect collected by young Friendly Beggars must outweigh all the materials they gather for others.

Mid-Hudson Hi-Y Group Elects Howard Marcu

Howard Marcu of the newly formed B Alpha and Kappa Omicron Hi-Y unit was elected vice-president of the Mid-Hudson Area Hi-Y at an area assembly held Friday at Kingston YMCA.

Kenneth Bellis of Newburgh was elected president and Barbara DeCandra of Newburgh secretary.

Participating were officers of Kingston, Newburgh and Middletown. Registration began at 9:45 and at 10 a. m. an open session commenced with Donald Bellis of Newburgh, presiding. Devotions were offered by Bruce Gill and a report of the New York State Hi-Y cabinet meeting at Syracuse was given by Jo Colper of Newburgh.

A film, "What Is Hi-Y" was shown and discussed in conjunction with a talk on the Hi-Y youth and government program by Walter Jacoby, Newburgh's youth director.

In the afternoon representatives were divided in groups according to office and discussions on how to be good officers were held. Also methods of conducting good programs and giving good service projects were outlined.

Syracuse Dairyman Heads Cooperatives

Dairyman B. J. Rikert of Syracuse is the new president of New York Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

Mr. Rikert, business manager of New York State Guernsey Breeders Cooperatives and a director of the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives, Inc., was named to his new post at the recent annual meeting of the Council in Ithaca.

He succeeds Harold J. Evans, Georgetown, of the New York Cooperative Seed Potato Association.

Other officers elected included Harold L. Creal, Cortland, of the New York Artificial Breeders Cooperative, vice president Dr. Kendall Carpenter, Ithaca, Cornell University, secretary, and Paul Taber, Ithaca, GLF, treasurer.

All the reports fizzled out.

Most recently a commercial airliner flying from Newfoundland to Shannon, Ireland, left its course to investigate a flare reportedly sighted by a freighter. The plane found nothing.

Other reports of SOS radio signals also proved fruitless. The air force explained that radio messages between ships at sea, or even between planes, could be picked up by other ships and mistakenly attributed to survivors from the missing plane.

A gigantic air search, involving more than 100 planes, an aircraft carrier and other Navy ships, was ordered to continue despite the failure to locate any trace of the missing plane or survivors.

The air force estimated that more than a million and a half square miles of the Atlantic has been covered by searchers since the first rescue planes went aloft Thursday.

Elsworth Ruling

board hold a hearing on the question of whether or not a rule should be adopted limiting hours of sale beyond the minimum hours prescribed by statute. In giving a local board the power to adopt a rule limiting hours, the legislature did not provide that a hearing was a condition precedent to the adoption of such a rule. It seems reasonable to assume that had the legislature been constrained to the view that a hearing was in order that it would have so ordained either in its original enactment of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law or by amendment down through the years that statute has been in force. To read the requirement of a hearing as a condition precedent to the adoption of the rule under consideration into the statute would be the assumption of a legislative function by this court. Who can say but what it may have been the considered judgment of the legislature that a hearing requirement under the circumstances in question would have been inappropriate or ill advised? A hearing is not a necessary concomitant to the adoption of a rule by an administrative agency.

Plaintiffs also argue that the rule adopted is arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable. The local board asserts that it approved the rule in an effort to curb a factor in juvenile delinquency—early morning drinking by young people—and in an effort to ameliorate the situation with respect to early morning accidents. On the question of arbitrariness the board has also pointed out that the majority of upstate counties have restricted the hours beyond the minimum closing hours required by statute. In weighing the issues so raised consideration must also be given to the purpose of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law of the State of New York. Section 2 thereof provides that "the restrictions, regulations and provisions contained in this chapter are enacted by the legislature for the protection, health, welfare and safety of the people of the state." It is the declared policy of said section that "it is necessary to regulate and control the manufacture, sale and distribution within the state of alcoholic beverages for the purpose of fostering and promoting temperance in their consumption and respect for and obedience to law." Indeed, it has been recognized that "because of the many evils attendant upon traffic in liquor, it is subject to regulation by the State in the exercise of its police power." (Matter of Calvary Pres. Ch. v State Liquor Authority, 245 App. Div. 176, 178.) No sufficient showing is here made in substantiation of plaintiffs' claim that the rule is arbitrary and capricious so as to merit a finding that a clear and undisputed right to the relief sought has been established on such grounds.

Plaintiffs also point to their investment in their places of business and argue inferentially that an estoppel exists against the promulgation of the rule because no such rule was adopted in Ulster county in the more than twenty years that have elapsed since the enactment of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law. The right to exercise a statutory power by a governmental agency is not atrophied by the failure to exercise it during a long period of time. Nor does the investment of plaintiffs in their establishments give them a vested property right to operation during certain fixed hours as heretofore. Each license as issued contains a statement that the license shall not be deemed a property or vested right (Alcoholic Beverage Control Law, §114, subd. 4-d). As the court said in Matter of Yates v Mulrooney (245 App. Div. 146, 148):

"No individual has an inalienable or inherent right to sell intoxicants in such a sense as to exempt him from legislative control. We have not before us a case where vested rights are being taken from one who is protected by the due process clause of the Constitution. The State may step in at any time, and prohibit the sale of intoxicants at any place or by any person, provided such action is taken pursuant to statute, and is not arbitrary or capricious, no matter how long the business has been carried on, or how serious a loss may result from such prohibition."

Upon this application it must be held that the plaintiffs have failed to show with the requisite degree of certainty such a clear right to the ultimate relief sought as to justify granting the temporary injunction prayed for. The motion is denied and the stay vacated.

Maroons Maul Poughkeepsie, 39-6, for Fourth Straight Win

Chase, Smith Register Twice Each in Romp

BY SAM ANZALONE
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Like a babe in arms, Poughkeepsie High School was led to the slaughter on the Dietz Stadium gridiron Saturday. With 2,000 sunsplashed fans watching, Kingston High buried their arch foes under an avalanche of six touchdowns before the Pioneers scored, for a one-sided 39-6 victory that solidly entrenched them atop the DUSO League race.

Poughkeepsie has suffered worst wallopings at the hands of the Maroons in the long series, but none more humiliating. Never were the Bridge City warriors in the game. As early as the first quarter the closely rated battle had resolved itself into a 'no contest' affair.

Not until the final two minutes of play did the invaders count and then they needed the assist of three penalties to clear the way. Deke Johnson, their much heralded sophomore flash, scored it on a plunge from the one.

Going down with the Pioneers was their nine game unbeaten string which had extended from last season. On the other hand, victory preserved Kingston's modest skein of this year of four games. It also stamped the Maroons as the favorites to dethrone the Dutchess county eleven as league champion. Kingston has captured two starts and needs a win over Middletown or Newburgh to wrap things up.

The Maroons' brutal running attack piled up 299 yards on the ground to a pitiful 31 for their across the river enemies. Through the air, Poughkeepsie had the better of it, 83 yards to just six, but those half dozen yards scored KHS's last touchdown.

Ironically, the key feature of the Kingston win was its defense. Captain Pete Blansch, a center, guards Marv Shaub and George Stephano and end Marv Engle joined forces to outcharge the Pioneers off their feet. This foursome, along with the rest of the forward wall, kept the visitors under control throughout.

While the line was throttling the opposition, the Kingston backs generally terrorized Poughkeepsie's youthful defense with devastating runs. The first came midway through the opening period after the KHS forwards halted a PHS drive on the 33.

Smith broke away on a dazzling 51 yard run to the Poughkeepsie 17 behind some solid blocking. After Larry Johnson and Bill Cragan advanced the ball to the five, Smith powered across for the initial TD. Quarterback Joe White's pass to Engle for the extra point was incomplete.

Gancel Fumbles

Later in the period, PHS fullback John Gancel was hit savagely on his own 25 and fumbled the leather into the waiting arms of end Chase who zipped to paydirt. Stephano cleared the path for Chase with a jarring block that lifted a Poughkeepsie defender into mid-air. Cragan banged over for the point after touchdown.

Kingston kept the pressure on and scored again early in the second period after it had a march stall on the Blues' three. The Pioneers punted out of danger to their 33 where Kingston launched its third scoring maneuver.

The score came in lightning-like fashion. After a first down play gained nothing, Armstrong blasted through the middle of the line and swivel-hipped his way to the promised land. It was the most explosive run of the afternoon. The much talked about sophomore gave a hip and then took it away as he slid off several frustrated would-be tacklers en route to the goal. He then bulled over for the extra point to make it 20-0 which was the score at halftime.

Kingston picked up right where they left off in the second half. It took the kickoff and paraded 80 yards—longest drive of afternoon—in eight plays. Smith capped the move with a two yard buck and Cragan piled over for the extra point. The biggest gainer was a fifty 50 yard run by Johnson along the sideline.

Final Period TDs

The other two KHS TDs were collected in the final period. The first came in spectacular fashion after Blansch intercepted a pass on his own 34. Armstrong shook himself loose and galloped to the PHS 45 where he was tackled. Before going down, he alerted lateralled off Chase, who was trailing the play, and the wingman went the rest of the way behind a wall of four blockers.

Poughkeepsie had its second pass pilfered by Smith on the 30 and he raced it to the seven to set up the final touchdown. Two plays later, White tossed a pass in the flat to Engle who slipped into the end zone to climax a fun-filled day of scoring. Kingston's attack was functioning so well that the Maroons only had to punt once. Also, the alert secondary intercepted two passes and recovered two fumbles.

Passers Checked

Poughkeepsie's aerial circus never got untracked. The Bridge City contingent tried 15 passes and completed five. Their first completion was a beauty, though

Can a basketball team have one guy dump 43 points and another 30 and still lose a game? Well, it can happen in the YMCA Autumn League where events don't always follow the form chart.

In a crucial Saturday night battle between Wimpy's No. 1 and Back's No. 1, George Carouzis unloaded 43 and Bill DuBois unloaded 30. Quarterback Joe White's pass to Engle for the extra point was incomplete.

Team Balance Clicks

Better team balance and superlative all-round play of Buddy Smith and his teammates accounted for the Wimpy triumph. Smith hooped 27 points, Jake Smith hit 20 and Jack Hough-taling bucketed 20 as Wimpy's took a 24-16 lead in the first quarter and were never headed.

The Wimpy victory put them in a tie for second with High Falls Firemen at 2 wins and 1 loss, a game behind the league leading Harry's Angels, who have won three straight. The Back's loss, second in three starts, virtually eliminated them from the pennant chase.

Italy Trackmen Win

Florence, Italy, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Italian National team today scored a 102-99 victory over France in a two-day, two-nation track and field meet at the local Communal Stadium.

and came, as usual, in one of the opening plays of the game. Johnson threw to Ronnie Jones, an end, on the third play of the tilt and the completion covered exactly 60 yards to the KHS 32. But there the drive died as the Blues attempted a fourth down pass unsuccessfully.

Coach Bill Burke had a sprinkling of reserves in the game when the Pioneers tallied. PHS went 69 yards for the score, but 45 of the yards were walked off because of penalties. The last 15-yarder placed the ball on the one where Johnson went over.

Kingston's next opponent is Mont Pleasant Friday night at Dietz Stadium. The contest promises to be the best on the Maroon calendar as the Schenectady eleven has a three year unbeaten streak riding.

Bridge City Ace Racks Up 1254 on Rosendale Lanes

Jim Lavery, a solid Poughkeepsie kiegler, who normally doesn't attract the rave notices of the Versaces, Bairds, Charters et al, is the mid-Hudson area All Star bowling eliminations leader at the end of 18 games.

Lavery, fourth at the end of 12 games last week, unloaded a 1254 series Sunday at Rosendale to move into first place with an 18-game aggregate of 3606.

Trailing by 40 pins is Jerry Oster of Kingston with 3566. Ken Joseph of Kingston, last week's leader, clung to third place with 3556, 17 pins better than William Brooks Jr. of Newburgh.

Oster Raps 1210

Lavery posted the day's high pinnage of 1254 with games of 173, 226, 178, 213, 230 and 234. Oster bagged the other "1200" count with 222, 223, 210, 189, 192, 174 for 1210.

The 24-game eliminations winds up Sunday, Oct. 21, at Dover Plains, with the keggers vying for three qualifying berths. The finalists then roll in a round robin against defending champion John Ferraro of Kingston, on Oct. 28 at Middletown.

Kingston keggers didn't fare too well on the exacting Rosendale lanes. Local scores included: Larry Peterson 1039, Don Siskler 971, Jim Amendola 1115, Joseph Cashara 992, Jackie Ferraro 1053, Chris Gallo 1037, Tom Carlino 1085, Joe Ausanio 1074, Buster Ferraro 1044, Joe Ruzzo 982 and Ken Joseph, who tied with Brooks for third best series of the day with 1192. Joseph had scores of 178, 213, 177, 195, 203 and 226.

Leaders at the end of 18 games:

Channel Masters Trip Formosts in HVBL, 2-1

The Channel Master powerhouse surprised the league leading Forst's Formosts of Kingston with a 3004 slam and 2-1 decision Saturday night on the Bowlodrome planks.

The loss left the Packers (12-3) only a game ahead of Jones Dairy and the Masters, both with 11-4 records.

The Dairy men scored a 2-1 road decision over Poughkeepsie Ten Pin Grill, while GI Joe's Express exploded for 1040 and 2-1 upset over Tony's Pizzeria.

Bandiero Shoots 649

Frank Bandiero, the former Walden sharpshooter, stacked games of 233, 216 and 200 for a 649 series as Channel Master achieved team slams of 1004-964-1036 for 3004. The Packers took the first set with a 1025 score.

Hammerin' Hank Kemmerer fired 225-620 for the winners. Larry Peterson, Forst captain, anchored his squad with 227-207-624 and Charlie Gildersleeve unloaded 223-224-607.

Howard Hits 619

Dick Howard's 227-211-181 for 619 paced the Express' upset of Tony's. Joe Ausanio aided with 212-593. George Shufeldt topped 213-201-595 and Charlie Manfro shot 203-590 for the Pizzeria, which salvaged the last game with a 1032 count.

John Ferraro's 242-592 series led both teams in Jones Dairy's 2-1 win over Ten Pin Grill. Jim Lavery shot 256-566 to lead the Grill.

Newburgh now possesses a 2 won, 1 lost record, all against non-league rivals.

Rochester Royals Set Sights on NBA Pennant With Fast, New Squad

Bobby Wanzer Leads Pros Against Nats

The 1956-57 edition of the Rochester Royals, who play the Syracuse Nationals Wednesday night at the Kate Walton field house, will feature new faces and youth.

The contest sponsored by Kingston Post No. 150, American Legion, will start at 8:30 p. m.

Included in the revolutionary changes as a new face is the veteran of many campaigns—Bobby Wanzer. He is one of the all-time NBA greats and will be starting his sophomore year as player coach.

Wanzer has been a perennial member of the league all-star teams, as well as a member of the all-west all-star aggregation. Among his accomplishments has been the consistent shacking of Bob Cousy, considered by many as one of the greatest all-time basketball players, both pro and collegiate.

Have Top Rookies

Surrounding Wanzer is a superlative cast of established stars and bright rookie prospects.

The No. 1 attraction, of course, is Maurice Stokes, NBA's Rookie of the Year in the 1955-56 season and one of the most talked-of college players in the post-war period.

Two other top Negro stars include Sihugo Green and Dick Ricketts of Duquesne's fabulous five.

Richie Regan, former All-American candidate at Seton Hall, will be seen along with rookies Kevin Thomas and John McCarthy of Boston U. and Canisius, respectively. Both go better than 6 feet 6.

Twyman on Roster

Veteran holdovers include Jack Twyman, former Cincinnati U. star, Art Spoelstra of Western Kentucky, Bob Burrow of Kentucky and Lew Hitch of Kansas State. Dave Pointek of Dayton Flyers is also trying for a berth.

Wanzer means business with the Royals this season. He is stressing youth, hustle and defense, and hopes to present a most pleasing array of talent. The Royals figure to be in contention all the way in the Eastern Division.

4-Way Playoff For Top Money In Western Open

San Francisco, Oct. 15 (AP)—Four tournament professionals battled it out today in a four-way playoff for the $5,000 top money in the Western Open after usually steady Doug Ford blew his chance to take it all.

Ford, one of the finest short game players in the business, came apart on the last three holes of yesterday's climactic round to finish in a 284 dead heat with Don January, flashy Lampasas, Texas, youngster; Jay Hobert, Sanford, Fla., and Mike Fetchick, Mahopac, N. Y.

Coming off the Presidio's breezy 15th hole, Ford was sailing along four under par and, so far as the gallery of 3,300 could see, nothing much stood in his way of grabbing the big prize. Then, as shocked spectators watched in amazement, his play around the greens went completely haywire.

Ford Falls Apart

The 33-year-old winner of the 1955 PGA championship proceeded to three putt the 16th for a bogey, carded himself another bogey by taking three to get down from the edge of 17 and, as the gallery watched open-mouthed, blew himself into the playoff on the 18th.

On this decisive hole, where he still had a chance to recoup, his second landed in thick grass about 25 feet to the left of the pin. He carefully chipped toward the cup and the ball skidded 10 feet past on the lightning fast surface. From there he barely missed his putt and went down in 5, another bogey.

Tough Competition

In the playoff starting at 12:30 p. m. (3:30 p. m. EST), today the Yonkers, N. Y., veteran, who hasn't won a tournament this year, is up against three tough competitors who did consider scrambling to reach the payoff. Anyone of them could take it.

Three sub-par rounds, including a final 70 yesterday, earned the steady Fetchick, who celebrated his 34th birthday Saturday, his spot in the unprecedented playoff. This is the first time such a thing has happened in the Western Open, although other tournaments have had four-way ties.

The four men fighting it out will play together and, if they haven't broken the tie at 18, the issue will be settled by sudden death playoff from there.

Rams, Browns Beaten Before Large Turnouts

By NICK ELLENA
The Associated Press

"There'll be some changes made" might well be the National Football League's theme song this year, played to the accompaniment of clicking turnstiles.

Nearly a quarter-million fans turned out to see yesterday's play, in which last year's conference titlists, Los Angeles in the Western Division and Cleveland in the Eastern, lost to teams they used to handle easily, and in which weak teams seemed suddenly transformed into powerhouses.

60,042 See Browns

A throng of 60,042 saw the Browns succumb to the New York Giants, 21-9, for the first time since 1952 as the once-awesome Cleveland offensive could manage only 40 yards rushing and 104 passing. And 56,281 saw Los Angeles provide last year's cellar-dwelling Detroit Lions with its third victory 24-21, as many as the Lions won all last year.

Only the Chicago Bears, living up to their rave notices, provided a touch of sanity, rolling almost at will through the San Francisco 49ers, for 397 ground yards, 86 air yards, 22 first downs and a 31-7 victory. A capacity crowd of 49,714 sat in on this one.

Cards Keep Winning

In other games, the upstart Chicago Cardinals retained their spotless record with their third straight victory over Washington before 25,794; Philadelphia rode with Bobby Thomson's aerial circus for a 35-21 decision over Pittsburgh before 31,375; and Green Bay's Packers used veteran quarterback Tobin Rote's two touchdown passes and two scoring plunges for a 38-33 verdict over Baltimore. A crowd of 24,214 braved a second-half drizzle to see Green Bay notch its first victory.

Oklahoma Unscored on In 3 Games

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It's getting to the point where the only question about Oklahoma's football powerhouse is whether the Sooners can get through the season unscored upon.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's national champs, with the remaining schedule giving little evidence they'll be unfrocked, now have rolled over three 1956 foes with their goal line still virgin territory. They snubbed North Carolina 36-0, humiliated Kansas State 66-0. Then they made themselves at home on the range with a 45-0 decision over Texas last weekend.

Kansas Next

This week it's Kansas. The Jaymakers, beating only Iowa State in four games to date, figure to give the Sooners a modern record of 34 consecutive victories.

After Kansas all that stands between Oklahoma and another perfect season is Notre Dame, Colorado, Iowa State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma A & M and indifference.

Notre Dame, only a name for a change, may prove a stumble, but it's unlikely. After a 28-14 thrashing by Purdue for a 1-2 record, the Irish now hold only the uncertain hope of upsetting one of the big guys. And if an upset is to be Notre Dame's unusual claim to fame it almost has to come this weekend against Michigan State.

If the Irish don't jolt the Spartans they may not have anything left in reserve to spring against the Sooners the following week.

Michigan State, hard on Oklahoma's heels for the national title, took a 53-6 Hoosier holiday against Indiana—leaving MSU atop the Big Ten Conference with also unbeaten Ohio State (26-6 over Illinois) and Iowa (13-7 over Wisconsin). Iowa may make it to the Rose Bowl what with Michigan State ineligible to return and Ohio State on probation.

In the race for national honors, Georgia Tech, Texas Christian and long-absent Tennessee are ready to move in should either Oklahoma, Michigan State or Ohio State falter. All six are 3-0.

And on the fringe, there's Mississippi (4-0), already primed for a Southeastern Conference battle with Tech and Tennessee; Southern Cal. (3-0) and perhaps Michigan (2-1), squared off with Iowa for the Rose Bowl bid. Michigan, beaten only by Michigan State made an impressive comeback with a 48-14 crusher against once proud and potent Army.

NFL sophomore, scored three touchdowns for the Giants. The New Yorkers perforated the Cleveland line for 256 yards rushing.

Andy Robustelli, New York Giants defensive end, personally squashed two Cleveland thrusts, throwing Cleveland quarterback George Ratterman for losses four times, and a total of 65 yards.

Depleted Wings Shade Rangers To Stay Unbeaten

By The Associated Press

If Detroit's Red Wings can stay unbeaten and shoot to a three-point bulge with two regulars sidelined, what's ahead for the National Hockey League when they get back to full strength?

The Wings dropped New York from the unbeaten ranks last night, tripping the Rangers 2-1 with Bill Dineen benched with an injured shoulder and Alex Delvecchio off his feet with a broken ankle. The Wings, with 3 victories and no defeats, made it with goals by Norm Ullman and rookie Billy Dea.

With the defeat, New York fell to a fourth-place tie with the champion Montreal Canadiens, beaten 3-1 by Boston as the Bruins held on to a second-place tie with Toronto. The Maple Leafs handed Chicago's Black Hawks their second consecutive shutout and third defeat 1-0.

Worsley turned back 32 Detroit shots while Rangers, finally counting on Guy Gendron's tip-in in the second period, made only 24 passes at Glenn Hall in the Wing nets.

Davidson Net Titlist

Mexico City, Oct. 14 (AP)—Sven Davidson, of Sweden, today won the men's singles title of the Pan-American tennis tournament with a 6-4, 6-4, 6-2 victory over Mexico's Mario Llamas. Althea Gibson, of New York, took the women's title with an 8-6, 6-4 decision over Darlene Hard, of Montebello, Calif.

Welterweights in Spotlight In St. Nick's 10-Rounder

BY MURRAY ROSE
The Associated Press

Garnett (Sugar) Hart of Philadelphia and Earl Dennis of New York, a couple of young, eager welterweights who have waited that the stars won't fight them, collide tonight (Monday) in a television 10-rounder (Dumont, TV, 9:30 p. m. EST) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Hart, a solid swinging 21-year-old with a record of 14 knockouts in 17 pro fights, is an 8-5 favorite over the dangerous 24-year-old Dennis, naturally known as the "Menace" in New York gyms. Sugar's complete record is 16-1, the 10s coming on a one-round knockout by one Fred Terry. Since then Hart has won eight straight.

Mediocre Record

Dennis has a mediocre 30-13-5 record, including 11 kayos, but he has won 20 of his last 23 scraps.

Hart's manager, Marty Stein of Philadelphia, had to guarantee he would sell $1,000 worth of tickets to get his big opportunity. So far he has sold more than $1,500.

Cuba's Ike Logart, one of the welterweight contenders Hart and Dennis would like to meet, faces Gaspar (India) Ortega, a free-swinging, tall Mexican youngster in the Wednesday night radio-TV feature (ABC 9 p. m., EST) at Boston's Mechanic's Building. The 23-year-old Logart, winner of nine straight including six this year, is favored to make it 10 straight. His record is 45-5-5. Ortega's record is 34-7.

Martinez vs. Nocero

Vince Martinez, the No. 6 welterweight contender from Paterson, N. J., also sees action tonight. Handsome Vince, idle since he was beaten by Tony DeMarco last June, opposes Rinzi Nocero at Providence, R. I.

Joey Giambra, another handsome gladiator with titular ambitions, guns for his fifth straight victory Friday night (NBC TV, radio, 9 p. m., EST), at New York's Madison Square Garden. The 25-year-old Buffalo, N. Y. middleweight, tenth-ranking contender, takes on fast-punching, aggressive Gil Turner of Philadelphia. Giambra's record is 45-4-1, Turner's 50-13-1.

Wagner and Lavits

Continue Campaign

(By The Associated Press)

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York campaigned on Long Island today in his quest for U. S. Senate seat.

His Republican opponent, Attorney Gen. Jacob K. Javits, flew from LaGuardia Field in a private airplane to campaign in the Buffalo area.

Wagner said on leaving New York city he was optimistic that

The mayor said also "a great migration" from the city to Nassau and Suffolk counties has

Napanoch Man Held on Charge

The arrest of Chester Homer Lee, 28, by Ellenville state police came after his car went out of control on the highway.

Troopers R. F. Holden and Patrick Romagnano reported that Mr. Lee was proceeding west at the time of the mishap.

The telephone pole was reportedly split by the impact. The car was described as heavily damaged.

Mr. Lee was treated at the Veterans Memorial Hospital, Eufaula, for lacerations of the face.

The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Kerhónkson.

Watch Caribbean Storm For Hurricane Signs

Miami, Fla., Oct. 15 (P)—A Caribbean storm of uncertain temper edged northward toward Florida today where its every move was watched for signs of possible peril.

A 5 a. m. (EST) bulletin from the Miami Weather Bureau located the storm about 120 miles south of Miami with indications that it "still has a large flat and elongated center."

The advisory said the storm "has not become tropical in character."

Winds of 25 to 40 miles per hour range northward from the disturbance for about 250 miles with gusts reported up to 50 and 55 miles per hour.

Find Child Dead

Wheat Ridge, Colo., Oct. 15 (P)—For the first time in years, Mr. and Mrs. William Gilbert left their eight children at home and went off by themselves for a Sunday afternoon drive. They came home to find 9-year-old Jean Anne dead. Sheriff's officers said she died of a bullet fired accidentally from a .22 rifle in the hands of a brother, Tommy, 16. Gilbert said the boy belongs to a rifle club and was getting the weapon ready for target practice.

Reds Lose Sleep

New York, Oct. 15 (P)—"Russia is not sleeping properly," says a mattress company executive just back from the Soviet Union. John W. Hubbell said on his return yesterday that a thin, cotton-filled mattress used on many Russian beds is at fault. He said he paid 170 rubles—about $42.50—for one of the Russian mattresses. "If this were put on a special sale here in a department store for five dollars," Hubbell said, "they wouldn't sell any."

Homemade Bomb Hurts 2 Youths Critically

Chicago, Oct. 15 (P)—Two high school boys, mangled in the explosion of a bomb they fashioned of iron pipe and chemicals bought in a drug store, were in critical condition in Holy Cross Hospital today.

The explosion of the potassium chromate and sulfur bomb blew off the left forearms of both William Ryan, 16, of 3025 W. 71st St., and Walter Prohaska, 15, of 7314 S. Francisco Ave.; badly mangled their right hands, and flying fragments shredded their leg muscles.

Still conscious when taken to the hospital, the boys said they bought the chemicals at a neighborhood drug store and hid them until they tried to assemble the 8-inch long bomb in Ryan's basement yesterday.
